STALIN REVEALS RUSSIAN GAINS

By NATALIA RENE
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Jan. 26.—Red army forces, swiftly following up their military triumph which drove the Nazis from the environs of Voronezh, today surrounded a large force of Germans on that front and proceeded to annihilate them when the enemy refused to surrender. Soviet tanks and infantrymen threw a circle of steel around the stubbornly resisting Nazis and smashed at them from several directions in a campaign to wipe the Voronezh area clear of the invaders.

Increased pressure was brought to bear against the Germans following an order of the day to the Red Army by Premier Joseph Stalin in which he exhorted his men to drive the enemy "beyond the limits of our country."

Another Soviet unit operating on the Voronezh front captured an inhabited locality after destroying 18 dugouts and nine pillboxes with which the Germans had fortified the town. The Russians smashed into the streets of the town and killed 300 Germans.

Cossacks In Action
Hard-driving Cossack cavalrymen speeded their drive on the trans-Caucasian front by wiping out two companies of Germans and seizing several inhabited localities. Considerable booty was captured and 130 of the enemy taken prisoner.

Bloody battles raged along the southern and southwestern fronts as Stalin's troops surged forward in (Continued On Page Two)

Damage To Tripoli Harbor Is Enormous

By GEORGE LAIT
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE BRITISH EIGHTH ARMY IN TRIUMPH, Jan. 24.—(Delayed)—Damage to Tripoli's harbor and adjacent areas is almost unbelievable. American and Allied bombers that pounded the Libyan port in the weeks before the fall of the city at dawn Saturday did their job well.

The hulks or superstructures of a dozen vessels were counted in the blue waters of the harbor. The great Spanish mole has been pounded almost out of existence.

Looks Like Cyclone Result
The wharves, warehouses and loading-sheds on the piers look as though a great cyclone had passed over the area and then come back again to do a thorough job.

Near the shore was the skeleton of a big coal storage bin, which once resembled one of our grain elevators. The shell hung crazily, apparently supported by sheer faith, as our bombs had wrecked it completely.

Food Seems Plentiful
Nevertheless food appears plentiful despite the fact the harbor is a shambles. This was a Godsend to men who have been living for weeks on short rations of bullybeef and hardtack.

Rubber Administrator Charges Synthetic Rubber Program Being Retarded

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The House naval affairs committee today decided to conduct an investigation into charges by Rubber Administrator William Jeffers that army and navy experts, and "the loafers, and so called expeditors" are retarding the synthetic rubber program.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) announced he would appoint a subcommittee to confer with the House military affairs committee and proposed that they join in examining the entire situation as it affects both branches of the armed services.

"Ordinarily," Vinson asserted, "this committee does not take note of idle gossip and rumors, but Mr. Jeffers occupies a position of great responsibility, has an eminent record as a railroad executive, and should be given the opportunity to prove the correctness of his statements. Likewise the army and navy should be given opportunity to answer the charges."

The struggle between the armed forces and Jeffers for priorities blossomed into a public free-for-all with Jeffers' statement.

Camouflaged Jap Transport Sunk

(International News Service)
NEW DELHI, Jan. 26.—An Indian naval vessel rammed and sank a heavily camouflaged Japanese coastal vessel laden with troops on the Mayu river in the Burma battle area, the British India command announced today.

There were at least 50 Japanese casualties inflicted as a result of the ramming.

The communication reported no appreciable change in the military situation on the Arakan front above the Port of Akyab.

Rabaul Is Center Of Heavy Attack—Jap Supply Ships Are Hit

JAPS ATTEMPT TO BOMB PORT MORESBY

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS, In Australia, Jan. 26.—Allied heavy bombers smashed again at the harbor of Rabaul and scored direct hits on two Japanese supply ships, an official communique disclosed today as widespread raids were reported on enemy bases in the New Guinea area.

A 2,000-ton vessel, probably loaded with munitions exploded during the attack and a great hole was torn in the side of a medium-sized vessel by a direct hit.

An Allied heavy bomber blasted the airbase at Gasmata, on the south shore of New Britain Island, and then swept low over the field in a strafing attack.

Many Bases Hit
Lae, Salamaua and Finschhafen, enemy bases on New Guinea, were also targets of Monday's attacks.

The communique reported, while the Japanese attempted raids on Port Moresby.

NAZIS REPORT STATE OF SIEGE IN MARSEILLES

Fighting Reported To Have Broken Out Between French Civilians, German Troops

(International News Service)
LONDON, Jan. 26.—A state of siege, according to the Nazis, has been proclaimed in Marseilles where fighting was reported to have broken out yesterday between French civilians and German troops enforcing orders to evacuate 40,000 residents of the port area.

A Reuters dispatch today reported that the Vichy radio had announced the state of siege with orders to soldiers and police "to use arms against all who disobey their orders."

Evacuation of the port area of Marseilles was ordered, apparently, to build defenses against a possible Allied invasion. Evidence that the orders were not carried out with "calm and discipline" was disclosed by the Vichy admission that 6,000 persons had been arrested to "safeguard order."

A Zurich dispatch to Reuters said the Germans had rushed tanks and artillery into the harbor area after civilians had resisted the efforts of police and the military tooust them from their homes. Following a series of street incidents, the dispatch added, the rebellious citizens barricaded themselves in houses and buildings and beat off all efforts to dislodge them.

Thirty-Five To Be Graduated
First Mid-Year Commencement At Westminster College Tonight

PROGRAM SPEEDED BECAUSE OF WAR

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 26.—Westminster college tonight will hold its first mid-semester commencement exercises in the 91 years of its history.

Thirty-five seniors, the majority of whom will immediately enter the armed services or war industries, will receive their diplomas from Dr. Robert P. Galbreath, Westminster president, in Wallace Memorial chapel. Most of the graduating students attended summer school here this year under the college's accelerated war program, enabling them to complete their course one semester ahead of the regular time.

Dr. George A. Long, president of Pittsburgh-Xenia Seminary, will give the principal address at the services which will begin at 8 o'clock.

Baccalaureate services were conducted by Dr. Galbreath in the college chapel Sunday evening. The president's annual reception for members of the senior class was held last night in Ferguson hall.

Unlike previous years, Westminster students will have no short vacation between semesters. Final examinations were concluded Monday afternoon, and second semester classes will get under way at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Four Jap Planes Shot Down In Sky Battle Near Guadalcanal

GROUND FORCES MAKES ADVANCES

By JOSEPH H. BORS
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Indicating the arrival of Japanese aerial reinforcements in the Solomons, the navy announced today that a large force of enemy dive and twin-engine bombers and fighters, which were headed for Guadalcanal, were routed in a sky battle by U. S. planes. Four Japanese Zeros were shot down. No U. S. planes were lost.

This was the first powerful Japanese plane force reported in operation in the southern Solomons since early November. Only lone Nipponese bombers have been raiding American positions in recent weeks. The navy also made public details of the American capture of the Japanese Guadalcanal headquarters at Kokumbona, seven miles west of the U. S. airfield on that island.

Ground Advance

The navy communique explained that two separate U. S. ground forces carried out a pincer movement from the south and east and wiped out 293 enemy troops and captured five prisoners.

A navy spokesman said the casualties were in addition to the 201 Japanese reported killed and 40 prisoners taken that led up to the capture of Kokumbona.

British Make Norway Raid

(International News Service)
LONDON, Jan. 26.—A British Commando raid carried out against the Nazi-held coast of Norway last Saturday proved extremely successful, an authoritative British spokesman declared today.

The raid was made at Lervik, near Bergen, and was one of a series constantly being carried out against the enemy-held coast line, it was pointed out.

Announcement of the raid was made first yesterday by the official German news agency, DNB, which claimed that the Commandos had been forced to turn back in their attempt to destroy German coastal defenses.

Powerful U. S. Forces Speeding Offensive On Japs In Pacific

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Powerful American aerial armadas based in the New Guinea and Guadalcanal areas today are spearheading a twin offensive of increasing fury against Japanese ground troops, shipping and important bases in the south and southwest Pacific war zone.

Latest battle reports from Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Australia and Admiral William F. Halsey in the South Pacific indicated that a coordinated assault is under way to cripple Japan's war efforts in those important theaters of conflict.

Seek Man In Lower 13 Mystery

A dark-complexioned man, who apparently vanished from a San Francisco-bound train about the time Mrs. Martha Virginia Brinson James, 21, was mysteriously slashed to death as she lay in her lower berth No. 13, aboard the train, is being sought by police. The mysterious passenger was sought after a passenger and a member of the train crew gave evidence of having seen such a man aboard the train prior to the killing of Mrs. James, bride of a naval ensign.

Train Mystery Plot Thickens

Los Angeles Police Holding Cook On Train To Probe Stories

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26.—The plot in the "mystery of lower 13" train killing thickened today as a 200-suit Negro cook formally was booked on murder suspicion and a number of "mystery witnesses" added bizarre testimony regarding the knife-slashing of Mrs. Martha James, 21, navy wife.

Robert Folkes, 29, second cook on the death train, was removed from the Southern Pacific Limited by Los Angeles police who acted for Oregon authorities. Mrs. James, four-month bride of Ensign Richard F. James, was slain in her berth last Friday night as the train sped through Oregon.

"I did not do the actual killing," detectives quoted Folkes as saying, as they relentlessly took him over details of his original story.

"Folkes has told us about eight different versions of his story," police said. "But in none of those versions has he given convincing (Continued On Page Two)

School Pupils Given Medical Check-ups

Examination Of 2000 Children To Be Completed In County By March 1

In Lawrence county township and boro schools this year about 2,000 pupils are receiving brief medical examinations. This figure was confirmed at the District Health Center, 115 North Jefferson street, where March 1 is the date by which the check-up is expected to be completed.

Commenting on this work, Dr. D. H. Eckles, district medical officer, said, "These examinations give parents a splendid opportunity to help their children and to build a strong nation."

Recent studies on selective service show that children whose health defects were not taken care of in childhood have not measured up as physically fit men and women.

"Poor eyesight, hearing and difficulty in breathing properly are most important, as are also undernourishment and fatigue. If examination shows any of these, it calls for immediate action, unless the family physician or dentist is already treating the child."

British Cross Tunisia Border At Three Points

Such Is Unofficial Report As Rommel Pursuit Is Continued

ALLIED BOMBERS HAMMER RETREAT

By W. P. SAPHIRE
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

CAIRO, Jan. 26.—The British Eighth Army advancing westward through Libya in pursuit of Axis forces retreating into Tunisia have occupied the coastal town of Zauria, 30 miles west of captured Tripoli, the Middle East high command announced today.

(Unofficial reports reaching London from Algiers by way of Madrid said that some forward units of the eighth army had crossed the Tunisian border at three points to spearhead an attack against the "little Maginot" March line 65 miles inside Tunisia.)

Bombers Attack Army

Allied fighter bombers, the communique from headquarters of Gen. Sir Harold R. L. G. Alexander said, maintained incessant attacks on retreating units of the Afrika Korps on the coastal road near Zuara.

As the forces of Nazi General Field Marshal Erwin Rommel were clearing out of Zuara allied bombers scored a hit on an Axis vessel in the harbor.

The planes operating from advanced bases in Libya ranged far to the west into Tunisia to blast the Axis airbase at Medenine.

Important military objectives in the vicinity of Medenine adjacent to the Mareh line of fortifications also were attacked by allied bombers.

Axis supply lines between the Italian Mediterranean island of Sicily and Tunisia were kept under constant attack by allied aircraft which bomber and machine-gunned vessels plying between the two points.

Cross At Three Points

London, Jan. 26.—The British eighth army was reported today to have crossed the Tunisian frontier from Libya at three points as it continued pursuit of the battered Afrika Korps seeking to join Axis forces in northern Tunisia.

No Trace Found Of Missing Plane

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—Despite continuing search, no trace had been found today of a huge navy transport which disappeared last Thursday after arriving over San Francisco on a flight from Honolulu.

Nineteen persons were aboard the missing plane including Rear Admiral Robert H. English, commander of U. S. submarine forces in the Pacific.

Weather conditions made a landing of the plane on San Francisco Bay impracticable when it arrived from Hawaii.

TWO SOLDIERS ARE KILLED IN WRECK

(International News Service)
SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Jan. 26.—Two soldiers were killed and at least 16 other persons were critically injured late last night when a crack westbound Santa Fe passenger train plowed into the rear of a freight train four miles north of San Bernardino.

The passenger train, the Grand Canyon Limited, caused the freight engine and five cars to be derailed. Several of the freight cars were hurled 330 yards from the track.

The soldiers, witnesses said, were passengers in the freight caboose, which was shattered by the impact.

You don't have to be rationed on beefsteak or ham, you can laugh at restrictions, here's how, just buy you a farm and a litter of pigs, a few head of sheep and a cow. You'll have plenty of beef and a ration of eggs and bacon and ham when you wish, but you get this idea it entails lots of work, if work on a farm is your dish. There'll be hog pens to build and some coops to construct and that kind of work you can't fool but, of course, you'll have meat, but you'll also have work, it's down, twenty-six and it's cool.

Many Proposals Before Legislature

Report 168 New Bills Presented

Measures Pour In Despite Agreement To Halt Unnecessary Action

WIDE VARIETY OF AFFAIRS AFFECTED

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 26.—Despite pledges from both Democrats and Republicans to refrain from introducing unnecessary legislation during the current winter session of the General Assembly, the legislative hopper was jammed today with 168 measures, including another congressional reapportionment program.

The plan, which would re-shuffle the entire state and even split helpful subdivisions, does not have administration approval. The reorganization plan was reportedly drafted by Federal Judge Albert B. Maris of Media.

Other measures introduced last night included proposals to: Reduce the voting age to 18 years; provide unemployment compensation to veterans of World War II; fix a $500 fine for robbing "victory gardens"; amend the fire safety laws of 1927 to prohibit night clubs below ground and ban entertainment in street-level clubs unless the entire building is fireproofed; eliminate the personal property tax payments for 1942; exempt housewives from the per capita levy in school districts of the second, third and fourth classes and also the occupational tax.

Also, require all persons to press and collect in 1943 under penalty of a $25 fine; provide workmen's compensation benefits for auxiliary firemen, policemen and air raid wardens injured or killed in the line of duty; abolish the four-mill personal property tax and to allow the state to postpone collecting the levy until it expires on May 31; legalize bingo under a $5 or $25 fee; prohibit the use of any picture on political advertising excepting the person seeking office and establish county branches of the state revenue department.

Nard L. Montgomery's Eighth army entered the heart of the Libyan stronghold at dawn Saturday while the desert was still wet with dew. And today, scarcely 24 hours later, life goes on almost as though the British had always been the masters of Tripoli.

Civilian life has returned almost to normal. The streets are still patrolled by soldiers—but they are khaki-clad Tommies instead of Italians.

One of the first acts of British military authorities was to rescind the Axis anti-semitic regulations and free some 16,000 Jews who had been penned up in a ghetto.

Gen. Montgomery gave orders that the civilian population be told to carry on as usual, without fear or undue restrictions.

Tripoli was formally surrendered to the victorious Allied by its commander, San Marco, Lieut. Governor of Libya, in the presence of the Italian Lord Mayor and the Provost Marshal.

by some Navy men was the two-day warship and aerial bombardment of Kolombangara island in the New Georgia group, a Jap base in the central Solomons which was left "completely burned out."

Airmen under Gen. MacArthur have been blasting the main Japanese base at Rabaul, New Britain, while army forces under Halsey have been pounding enemy installations and shipping throughout the Solomons.

While American land, sea and air blows have been increasing in intensity for weeks, the Japanese have been stabbing back cautiously and with little effect against U. S. positions since their crushing defeat in mid-November.

Allied Positions Improved

Japan still is believed to have powerful warship units and reinforcements in and around her main mid-Pacific base at Truk, and some Navy men have been anticipating a Japanese counter-move to relieve their forces in the Solomons and New Britain.

However, the American and United Nations positions in the South and Southwest Pacific zones have been improved considerably by the smashing of enemy forces in Papua, New Guinea, and the isolation of Japan's dwindling army on Guadalcanal.

While this process has been under way, American aerial and ground reinforcements have moved into the southern Solomons and official sources feel that Japan now is not in a position to challenge U. S. forces unless she risks her remaining fleet units for a gigantic counter-offensive.

ALLIED BOMBERS SMASH AGAIN AT MANY JAP BASES

Moody and the Milne Bay district on the eastern tip of New Guinea. Damage to the Allied bases was negligible, said the communique. The enemy raids were carried out under cover of darkness.

Rabaul, the main enemy base in this area has been under almost daily attack for the past three weeks and has greatly strengthened its defenses to protect the large concentrations of warships and supply vessels reported being assembled there.

Fly At Low Levels

The Allied bombers went in at low levels despite intense anti-aircraft fire and the blinding screen of searchlights. In addition to the direct hits known to have been scored on the two enemy supply dumps, other ships may have been damaged but results were not observed.

Medium bombers dropped 1,000-pound bombs among the supply dumps and military buildings at Lae. Fires were started among the supply dumps and a number of buildings were heavily damaged. After unloading their bombs the Allied fighters flew in low over the town area and silenced three machine gun positions and an anti-aircraft battery with cannon fire and a rain of machine-gun bullets.

Attack planes blasted the Salamaua area and then carried out a sweep southwest along the coastal area as far as the Kamusi River.

A single heavy bomber unloaded its explosives on the harbor area at Finschhafen.

The Japanese retaliation was weak. Three enemy planes raided the airfield area at Milne Bay after nightfall. Damage was said to have been negligible. Another night raid was made on the Port Moresby airfield, and again the damage was reported to have been slight.

campaigns directed against the Caucasus gateway city of Rostov and the steel center of Kharkov in the Ukraine.

On the southern front, the high command said in its noon communique, a fierce battle was waged for possession of an important inhabited locality. Counter-attacks on one sector were repelled and 200 of the enemy killed.

In the advance on the southwestern front the Soviets regained control of several localities. Several important heights also were captured.

Advance Toward Rostov

The Red army driving southwestward along the Stalingrad-Krasnodar railway southeast of Rostov to throw an encircling ring south of the city and cut off Nazi forces to the south advanced to within 37 miles of the strategic rail junction of Tikhoretsk by capturing Belaya-Golina.

Russian forces pushing northwestward through the Caucasus simultaneously threatened Kropotkin, some 40 miles south of Tikhoretsk, in an advance from captured Armavir above the Maikop oil fields.

In his order of the day to his troops which have been waging relentless offensive warfare against the Germans and satellite forces for the past two months, Premier Stalin revealed that the Red Army had routed 102 enemy divisions and destroyed them as fighting units.

The rout, he said, resulted in the capture of 200,000 enemy troops. More than 13,000 guns and a very large amount of other war material was seized during this period by the Soviets as they crashed through the German defenses in large-scale operations on separate fronts.

"During this period," the commander of Russia's fighting forces said, "our troops advanced 250 miles and won an important victory. The offensive continues."

EDITOR'S NOTE: The British radio, according to CBS, reported that Russian troops from the central Caucasus have pushed up to the main highway leading to Rostov and made a junction with other Soviet forces advancing down the line from Salsk. The natural meeting place for these two forces. It was pointed out, would be the great strategic junction of Tikhoretsk, but the broadcast merely mentioned continued progress in this direction.

that British Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's troops had made their way into Tunisia at one place along the coast and along two roads toward the towns of Chegnel and El Auoui.

The advance, it was said, was being made in the direction of Medinaw where the Axis maintains a landing field adjacent to the "little Maguet" river line, 65 miles inside the frontier.

Americans Make Attack

The reported crossing of the border by the British vanguard followed an assault by American forces on the town of Maknassy, in central Tunisia 50 miles east of Gafsa, in answer to a German challenge to "come out and fight."

Replied immediately to the invitation dropped from the air by the Germans, the Americans raided Maknassy and seized 80 prisoners. The German-operated Paris radio meanwhile announced that Nazi military circles forecast an attack against the port of Gabes in southeast Tunisia by American troops reportedly moving up north of Tebessa, 10 miles inside Algeria from the boundary of central Tunisia.

Precautions against allied assaults to thrust eastward and cut the coastal road have been taken for some time by Axis forces in eastern Tunisia. The Germans and Italians have labored repeatedly to keep the coastal passage open so that Gen. Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's forces retreating from Libya may form a junction with Axis troops guarding the Tunis and Bizerte ports.

Observers viewed the Paris radio report as an Axis attempt to forestall information on possible allied plans to prevent Rommel from linking forces with the Germans and Italians to the north. A note of Axis anxiety also was seen in the announcement.

THE READING CIRCLE HAS "MAGAZINE DAY"

"Magazine Day" was appropriately observed by members of the Reading Circle on Monday afternoon when they gathered as guests of Mrs. Wayne Stutzinger on Glenmore boulevard. Each gave the name of "A Magazine" in response to a roll call.

Following the routine period, papers for the afternoon were contributed by Mrs. B. M. Rogers. "The Saturday Evening Post" was the topic chosen by Mrs. T. L. Nixon for her article, and "Life" was the magazine selected by Mrs. Fred Smith.

MRS. W. E. McKEE IS EVENTS '06 HOSTESS

Twenty members of Current Events '06 answered roll call with "A current topic" at the meeting held Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. E. McKee, 208 North Crawford avenue, hostess, when she welcomed them for their January session. Mrs. Thomas Smith was a special guest.

Miss Mary Moorhead was honored by the group on her anniversary, when they joined in singing "Happy Birthday."

Roll call was answered by giving the name of "A South American City."

Following the usual discussion of current topics claimed attention.

Monday, February 8, members will meet with Mrs. Alice McKillop of 212 Richelieu avenue, at 2 o'clock.

W. C. Club

Members of the W. C. club will meet on Thursday with Mrs. Patrick McDowell of Smithfield street.

CURRENT EVENTS CLASS MEETS; PLANS FOR 'TEA'

In the East Winter avenue home of Mrs. L. C. Black, Current Events class members gathered on Monday afternoon for an interesting session. In addition to the 14 who answered roll call with "a short current topic" they had one special guest, Mrs. H. Goldner.

More lengthy current topics were offered for discussion during the period that ensued.

Plans were also completed at this time for the annual "George Washington" party. The following committee was appointed on arrangements: Miss Pearl Johnson, chairman; Mrs. J. N. Kerr, Mrs. Charles Long, Mrs. John Madigan, Mrs. Charles T. Metzler, Mrs. Madge Reed and Mrs. J. A. Sechler. It will be in the nature of a tea and will take place in the home of Mrs. J. N. Kerr, 409 Young street.

The next regular meeting will be on February 8.

JAMESON NURSES ALUMNI ELECTION

Annual business meeting for Jameson-Shenango Nurses Alumni Association, was held in the Solatium of Jameson Memorial hospital Monday night, with election of officers taking place.

Those elected, follow: President, Mrs. Alice Brunswick; vice-president, Mrs. Helen Vondera; treasurer, Emma Lou Wein; board members include, Mrs. Bertha Smith, Mrs. Dorothy Gilkey, Marie Douglas and Caroline Book.

An invitation is extended to the alumni by the student nurses, to attend a party they are giving Thursday evening in the Nurses Home.

You-Name-It Club

Members of the You-Name-It club will meet Friday evening, February 5, with Mrs. John Downing, Jr., of 213 Grant street for their next social event. Plans were completed at the meeting held on Friday with Miss Laura Lewis, hostess, at a tea room.

Mrs. Phillip Cox, Jr., was welcomed as a new associate.

The time was spent in playing cards, with Mrs. John Downing, Jr., and Mrs. Maynard Branscome captaining the honor prizes. An additional award was presented Mrs. Richard Belknap.

SERVICE STAR, PLANS FOR VALENTINE PARTY

Service Star Legion, No. 176, assembled in the Trades and Labor Hall recently, with Mrs. Ida Suber presiding over the routine period, when plans were made for a St. Valentine party.

The occasion has been arranged to serve a double purpose, also for honoring the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Suber, and is set for Tuesday, February 9, to take place in the form of a 6:30 o'clock dinner, in the home of Mrs. Tyler on Carson street. Mrs. Bessie Linton will be co-hostess.

A social time ensued with Mrs. Evelyn Woods and Mrs. Bell Whitman in charge of the lunch. Awards were won by Mrs. Beatrice McNicholas and Mrs. J. Tyler for the contests featured.

The next regular meeting will be held at the same place on Friday, February 26.

McGILL SOCIETY AT ECKLES RESIDENCE

Mrs. Donald H. Eckles, of Moody avenue, was a charming hostess Monday evening, to members of the McGill Missionary Society of the Highland U. P. church, with Thelma Merrileas co-hostess.

Devotions were in charge of Eleanor McDill. Motion pictures were shown later of the picturesque countries Mexico and Central America by Mrs. James D. Crawford. Mrs. Crawford also gave an interesting account of her trip to these countries, and told of their habits and customs.

Dainty refreshments were enjoyed at a later hour, served on an attractively arranged table. Gertrude Graham poured for the members and guests.

Special guests in attendance were: Mrs. Lewis Dayton, Mrs. William Headings, Mrs. P. L. Hollinger, Mrs. R. F. Dixon and Allura Leslie.

Plans for the February meeting are not yet complete, and will be announced.

Record News

Did you know that to make 100 recordings in the beginning, the artist had to sing the "title" twenty times?

At that time, the Marches of Sousa were favorites as well as today.

Carlson Robinson, troubadour of American Folk Songs, has disced "The Old Gray Mare Is Back Where She Used to Be." Our only regret is we haven't a mare. Dobbin has taken his place since rationing.

Glenn Miller will release about Feb. 1st "That Old Black Magic." This is from the star packed show "Star Spangled Rhythm"—an easy tempo with gentle rhythm—one for relaxed listening.

Pure melody flows under the direction of Hans Kindler with the National Symphony Orchestra in "The Moldau" by Smetana. Smetana, more than any composer, gave the Czech musicians a new confidence.

STATE OF THE NATION

STRUGGLING desperately about a meat truck parked in a burning garage, the police of East Orange, N. J., were able to rescue several choice cuts of meat from the fire and from the rationed—by their dealers—spectators.

When a wild hawk attempted to carry away fat hens from the coop owned by a Missouri woman, she decided it was time to take matters into her own hands. She wrung the hawk's neck.

Strategically retreating from a dog fight, a Shreveport (La.) cat jumped onto a filling station roof and then down an electric light cord, illuminating the premises and subverting the municipal blackout.

Dr. Ralph Boos of Minneapolis, attending a Florida dental clinic, advised that men—using their natural rather than false teeth—can outbite women, two to one.

Abandoned on the doorstep of the Red Cross Women's Motor Corps office of Kansas City were found three goldfish complete with bowl and hastily scrawled note: "We are unable to care for them. Will you please adopt them?"

Brandishing a gun in her face, a masked robber was foiled by the ready wit of a Portland (Ore.) woman who told him:
"Go jump in the lake."

FEWER AND BETTER LAWS

All good Pennsylvanians, aside from their political preferences, can approve a program adopted by legislative leaders of the present assembly, its purpose to prevent introduction of "an avalanche of worthless bills" in the 1943 session.

It is pointed out that 3,900 bills were offered in 1937 and only 347 of them became law. Introduction and consideration of the others took up a lot of time.

Many of them were never expected to become law. They were proposed in payment of political debts, or as political compliments to persons and communities. Some were little better than excuses for a legislator to be heard and seen in action in Harrisburg.

When an agricultural surplus threatened some years ago the remedy was to plough under every third acre. Two-thirds, at least, of the average output of proposed legislation in Pennsylvania could be spared. And it is better to nip such legislation in the bud than to let it grow through committee hearings and interminable discussion—and then kill it.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

WHAT DO CIVILIANS NEED?

The basic justification of rationing is that only by such means can supplies of raw materials and finished goods be directed to the needs of war equipment industries, and thence to the armed forces. Whatever proportion of oil, steel, or cotton, for example, must go for military use, some known minimum amount should be tagged for the needs of industries making civilian goods. What, therefore, are the essential civilian requirements for food, clothes and other necessities?

A report just issued by the Senate's special committee to study problems of small business makes the charge that no measurement of essentials has yet been made. It goes further in declaring that "there is no one agency or official with the clear-cut responsibility of determining our essential civilian requirements, and seeing that they are met." Although the Office of Civilian Supply theoretically has charge of that task, the Senate committee, headed by Senator James E. Murray, asserts that the OCS has no statutory responsibilities.

The committee proposes to establish within the war production board a civilian supply administrator. Whether such an office be set up with or without the WPB, the function of it would obviously be related not only to the needs of the entire civilian population, but also to the requirements of business which can supply those needs.

It is a responsibility which, in this hour of confused rationing, has an importance not easily exaggerated. That in all the bureaucratic bustling to set up new agencies in Washington for everything this should have been overlooked seems rather incredible.

MUSIC IN INDUSTRY

One of the interesting results of the impact of war on American life has to do with the realm of music. With many war industries functioning on a twenty-four-hour basis, the value of music in stepping up individual performance and avoiding monotony is being discovered, or rediscovered, with decidedly beneficial effects. It has been found, indeed, that there is a definite and ascertainable relationship between factory output and musical interest on the part of those who are toiling with their hands.

But this is not a one-sided matter. If present-day industry owes something to music, music unquestionably will be altered in one way or another through its own adaptation to material aims and purposes.
That has been true in the military field. Why not in the economic?

"No artist undertakes a composition or performance without the consciousness of his audience," said Prof. Harold Burris-Meyer of the Stevens Institute of Technology, in a recent address to the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. "And in so far as his art is valid he undertakes to exercise emotional control over that audience. When a composer starts to think of his work as being first and foremost performed in a factory, then we may well have a musical idiom which is something new on the face of the earth. What industry can do for music may be as important, when the record of this civilization is written, as anything music can do for industry."

With the war already exerting marked influence upon literature, recreation and many other phases of life, it is not surprising to hear Professor Burris-Meyer drawing such a conclusion. But it is none the less interesting to observe that wartime music now seems destined to develop a pronounced industrial as well as a military strain.

If that means more of the things needed to bring victory, few lovers of barcarole or nocturne will complain.

Nowadays when one goes to his garage and looks over the gasoline situation he usually says: "Ay tank aye stay home."

When we graduated from high school we thought we knew more than father; when we graduated from college we thought we knew more than anybody. By the time we graduated into social security we weren't so sure about it.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TRAIN CHILD TO AVOID DANGERS

In the house are some more or less constant dangers. There's the gas jet. When it is lighted the baby may be tempted to push paper or an inflammable toy into the blaze.
More often he wants to turn it because of the fun of doing so. The sound of the escaping gas and the smell of it. Matches also are alluring to him.

Prono to explore, he wants to reach for things above him on the kitchen stove or sink. If a container of hot liquid is on the floor he is likely to investigate it and may tumble in. Cleaning fluids and poisons are constant hazards unless kept out of his reach. All these dangers he is inclined to face as he begins to walk.

In order to protect this tot, his mother and other elders of the household need to be eternally alert in order to keep these hazards out of his reach or him away from them.
They will do best if when the child is not present they will be as vigilant as when he is, in order to make the habits of caution reliable. If, for example, while the child is asleep, mother will keep the handles of containers on the stove or kitchen table turned back, she will soon get in the habit of observing these safety cautions.

These efforts are not enough. At best the mother's vigilance may lapse, and other adults in the home may be still less dependable. The child's safety can be more than doubled by training him intelligently to avoid certain definite constant dangers automatically and permanently.

Train Through Punishment
Therefore, we do best to guarantee safety in the tot when, in addition to our constantly keeping perilous things from him, we train him effectively to keep away from them. We can do this by making sure that he is instantly punished when he plays with dangerous things.

Perhaps the safest and most effective application of pain is by spanking. If the child learns that always and instantly he gets pain as he touches the gas jet he will soon avoid it automatically. In order to effect this training well the mother must be right with the tot when he is near the gas jet until he has learned to avoid it permanently. Otherwise he will touch it sometimes or often without getting pain, and the more often this happens the less surely he will learn to avoid the gas jet.

Besides, the mother should not pull the child away or deter him with "don'ts." She should let him choose to touch the gas jet and then get instant pain. The purpose is not just to keep the youngster from the gas jet this time but to establish in his nervous system a connection of pain which will make him keep away from it at all times.
Having perfected this training at the end of several hours or days, it will be easy to train the tot in like manner to avoid matches, and still later, other definite hazards.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. My daughter 3½ years old has been a problem when I am busy talking to some one else. She constantly interrupts and demands attention. She seems to be considerately enough when with her father and me alone.

A. The chances are you don't feel annoyed when she interrupts you or her father when there is no company, while very conscious of it when there is. Train her to wait and not interrupt either of you when alone with you and her father. Be sure also to be mannerly toward her at all times. Help her to be with other children her age more, so less dependent on you parents.

In the arrangement of your living room be sure that you give sufficient thought to your lamps. Every chair that might be used for reading should have a lamp nearby. And see that your bulbs are of sufficient strength to diffuse a good reading light, also that the lamp shades are so low that the bulbs cannot be seen by the reader. Much eyestrain and headache result from lamps light shining directly upon the retina. And light shining directly from above adds a good ten years to the lives of everyone's face.
Actresses learned this scores of years ago and had footlights substituted for top lights long before our mothers and grandmothers were still sitting under gas and electric chandeliers hanging from their ceilings and often decorated with elaborate prism-shaped crystals.
But the modern woman knows that her beauty is enhanced by low lamps that throw rosy indirect light upon her through translucent or blue shades.

LOOKING AT LIFE

—By Erich Brandeis

Hollywood will set the styles for men in 1943, predicts Louis W. Fairchild, men's fashion publisher, who certainly ought to know.

He doesn't exactly claim that the day of conservatism is ended, but he does think that the old gray pepper-and-salt-suit and the blue serge is definitely a thing of the past.

"The tendency will be for men's clothing to go wilder and wilder," proclaims Mr. Fairchild, "with wartime restrictions increasing the tendency toward unmatched coats and pants."

Hurray for the call of the wild!
I'm sick and tired of blue coat and blue pants. My plain neckties and white hankies bore me stiff.

Hereafter I'm going to be like Tommy Manville whom I saw at the Stork Club in New York the other night in black shirt, yellow necktie, red carnation in his button hole, gray coat and—well, I don't remember the pants because I was watching for the necktie to light up in neon, which it didn't.

And at Toots Shor's there was "Bugs" Baer with a tie that had every color of the rainbow in it and a design that even a Salvador Dali could have designed only in a fit of anger.

I love these Hollywood boys. I have seen them on Vine Street leaning against drugstore windows not knowing whether they or their clothes were whistling.

There they were, no hats, no ties, pink shirts with purple checks, between colored coats, green trousers, brown suede shoes, red handkerchiefs in their breast pockets, plaid socks (no garters, of course), a yellow rose in their lapels.

That's what I call clothes! What with Mr. Petrillo pointing down on broadcasting of recorded music let every man be his own brass band.

What with the OPA with its gas rationing, cracking down on amusements, let us males be our own cinemas, our own nightclub, our own tin horn!

I'm for louder and crazier clothes.
Let our cry be Whoops, my dear!

Even before this shocking instance, evidence of the turning, other than the election results, had been given in resolutions from various farm organizations, heretofore strongly pro-New Deal, in which the forty-hour week was denounced, further wage increases opposed, and the special privileges to labor urged rescinded. These expressions cannot be discounted as coming from political or personal opponents of Mr. Roosevelt. Nor do they emanate from anti-New Deal reactionaries.
They are, in fact, a reflection of public sentiment which is not to be laughed off and which is genuinely disturbing to the true friends of labor. It is the inevitable result of unwise extremes to which labor has been led through its Administration backing. The reaction is likely to be damaging to both.

THE TRUTH is that, in time, money and materials, the loss to the nation through this CIO-White House combination has been incalculable. Before Pearl Harbor, strikes were epidemic and nationwide. Since Pearl Harbor, they have decreased but by no means ceased.
Strikes, slowdowns, walkouts and wage demands still occur, impeding vital war production and throwing the war plants out of their stride.
Testimony to this effect has been given by officials of the Administration like Admiral Land of the Shipping Board and others. Actually, there isn't an open-minded man in Washington who privately disputes the facts. Yet none of this loosens the link between the labor leaders and the White House nor diminishes the tolerance of the latter for the former.

THIS COMBINATION PAID politically for a good many years out it has been carried too far now. What was once an admitted asset seems steadily becoming a liability. Some of the New Dealers, grasping the facts, are anxious that the President take occasion to act in a way that will show complete freedom from labor-leader dominance and demonstrate that these professionals no longer enjoy particular White House favor. There have been many occasions when this could have been done greatly to the benefit of the national interest and to the war effort.

THERE IS opportunity now, when the manpower problem is so acute and the shortage of labor so alarming. All the President has to do to solve this problem is to let it be known that he no longer opposes the extension of the forty-hour week for the duration of the war.
He does not have to advocate it, all he need do is to make it clear that he will no longer block it. It would be good politics for him to do that as well as sound national policy.
But not many think he will. The man is too tight and his commitments too complex.

THE CIO leaders meet the resolutions of the farm organizations and the attitude of the people by making ebullient patriotic speeches, telling how noble and unselfish they are. The New Deal adds sweetness to the old-time demagoguery against the National Association of Manufacturers, and by citing the few instances of industrialists who have been guilty of fraudulent practices. The extreme radicals meet them by insistence upon further labor advances. Notwithstanding all this, the patience of the public with the labor favoritism of the Administration wears thinner all the time. Each threatened strike imposes an additional strain. It will be surprising if at this session public feeling is not reflected in labor regulation which the White House will be unable to smother, as it always has done before.

TO BUY FRACTURE BEDS FOR COUNTY

American Legion Auxiliary Will Start Campaign For Worthy Project

Plans have been completed by the American Legion Auxiliary here for the inauguration of a campaign which will result in the placing of several fracture beds in the community for free use, not only in New Castle, but the surrounding territory as well, wherever and whenever needed.

These fracture beds are of the hospital type and have all the accessories for extension, traction and other requisites needed by the physician in handling cases involving broken bones.

Two of the chief benefits are that the doctor can handle his case at home instead of in the hospital, and the savings in hospital bills is a big saving to the patients. Along with these advantages, the patient can remain at home, and thus obviate the need for long hospital trips for ones near and dear to him or her.

It will be a distinct advantage to any family in the emergencies which, sooner or later, seem to strike every family.

During the campaign everyone in New Castle and the surrounding community will be called upon. After having identified themselves, the campaigners will explain the project in detail and point out the benefits to every family. Identification will be through credentials signed by Mrs. J. Roy Jones, president, and Mrs. Wade Daugherty, Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, Mrs. William V. Brooks, Mrs. Stephen McBride, Mrs. John Gaston, Mrs. Frank C. Conner and Mrs. Francis Pinkerton, other officers of the American Legion Auxiliary.

These officials point out that the method of helping the auxiliary to make this campaign a success is very inexpensive, and every person can have a part in placing the apparatus in service.

When the fracture beds are available local physicians will be notified exactly where to call for this wonderful service.

Fighting French Now In Tripoli

Score Direct Hits In Rabaul Harbor

Flying Fortresses Make Sneak Raid On Jap Ships At New Britain Island Base

By FRANK ROBERTSON (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Jan. 26.—A squadron of Boeing flying fortresses under command of Maj. Eugene Halliwell of Portland, Me., sneaked into Rabaul Harbor around midnight and rained the bell again with direct hits on two Japanese ships in the concentration at anchor at the New Britain island base.

Maj. Halliwell, on his first mission in several weeks, led the jack-pot in dropping his load squarely on a 2,000-ton ship that immediately exploded.

The second ship fell to the fortress piloted by Capt. Kenneth McCallar of Batesville, Miss., who was flying his 40th mission against the enemy.

"We picked out a ship and scored direct hits with heavy bombs," said Maj. Halliwell. "It exploded almost immediately with a terrific bang and sheets of flame rose skyward."

"But the flames were extinguished in a few seconds and when we circled back where the ship had been there was nothing in sight."

Capt. McCallar picked out a medium-sized supply ship and circled it five times to get the range.

"We wanted to make sure it was a good target," he explained. "Then we let go and one bomb fell right on the deck and a second alongside."

Then an anti-aircraft got pretty hot and we couldn't tell the final results. But I think he did O. K."

Other pilots on the latest run to Rabaul included Lieut. Fred Wesche of Roselle, N. J., and Capt. Harry Staley of Geneseo, N. Y.

Controversy On Rubber Plants

By PHILLIPS J. PECK (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The long-simmering controversy over priorities for synthetic rubber plants boiled over today with these developments following Rubber Director William Jeffers charge that Army and Navy experts and "loafers" are retarding the program.

1—Chairmen of the house military and naval affairs committees announced that they will investigate Jeffers' charges.

2—Jeffers, reiterating his belief against "Army and Navy experts," declared he was "more hopeful than ever" that all of the nation's "must" war production program could be attained.

3—WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson admitted there are differences between himself and Jeffers over the synthetic program but said that interference by expeditors already had been corrected.

Nazis Trapped In Corridor

Leaving Italy's last African colony behind, Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's shattered Afrika Korps has fled into Tunisia with the British Eighth Army close behind. They are streaming northward through a narrow corridor in an effort to join German troops at Tunis and Bizerte before British, American and French troops from the west can cut them off. Shaded portions on this Central Press map show the decreasing area in which Axis units still operate.

AXIS BLOCKADE RUNNERS HIT IN SOUTH ATLANTIC

Allies Launch All-Out Offensive Against Enemy Merchantman Activity

By JOHN R. HENRY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD A FLAGSHIP. Somewhere in the South Atlantic, Jan. 21—(Delayed)—Allied naval forces have launched an all-out offensive in the South Atlantic against Axis blockade runners and armed surface raiders. Vice Admiral Jonas H. Ingram, disclosed today.

The admiral pointed out that at least two blockade runners have been intercepted.

"The enemy has been rather active lately in his attempts to break through the Allied blockade," Ingram asserted. "Some of their merchant ships tried to sail from occupied French ports around the tip of South America to the Orient and back."

"There is little that can be said at this time about surface raiders, except that we're constantly on the lookout for them. They have not been very active."

"Germany's submarine fleet thus far has been our biggest adversary."

With more men, ships, and aircraft at his disposal, as a result of American naval expansion, Admiral Ingram has hurled a sizeable group of his command into a search for the enemy merchantmen.

The two enemy blockade runners the admiral mentioned as having been intercepted are the Odenwald and another, both German ships.

SOUTH AMERICAN JOURNALISTS ON U. S. WAR TOUR

(International News Service)

FORT BENNING, Ga., Jan. 26.—A group of journalists from Peru and Uruguay today were en route to New Orleans on the second leg of their six-week transcontinental tour of United States military and naval establishments and war industries.

After the Fort Benning visit, Alejandro Miro Quesada Garland, of El Comercio, oldest newspaper in Peru, said he already was convinced the United States was making every effort "and is capable of defending the western hemisphere."

HAS LOST NO WORK TIME SINCE 1888

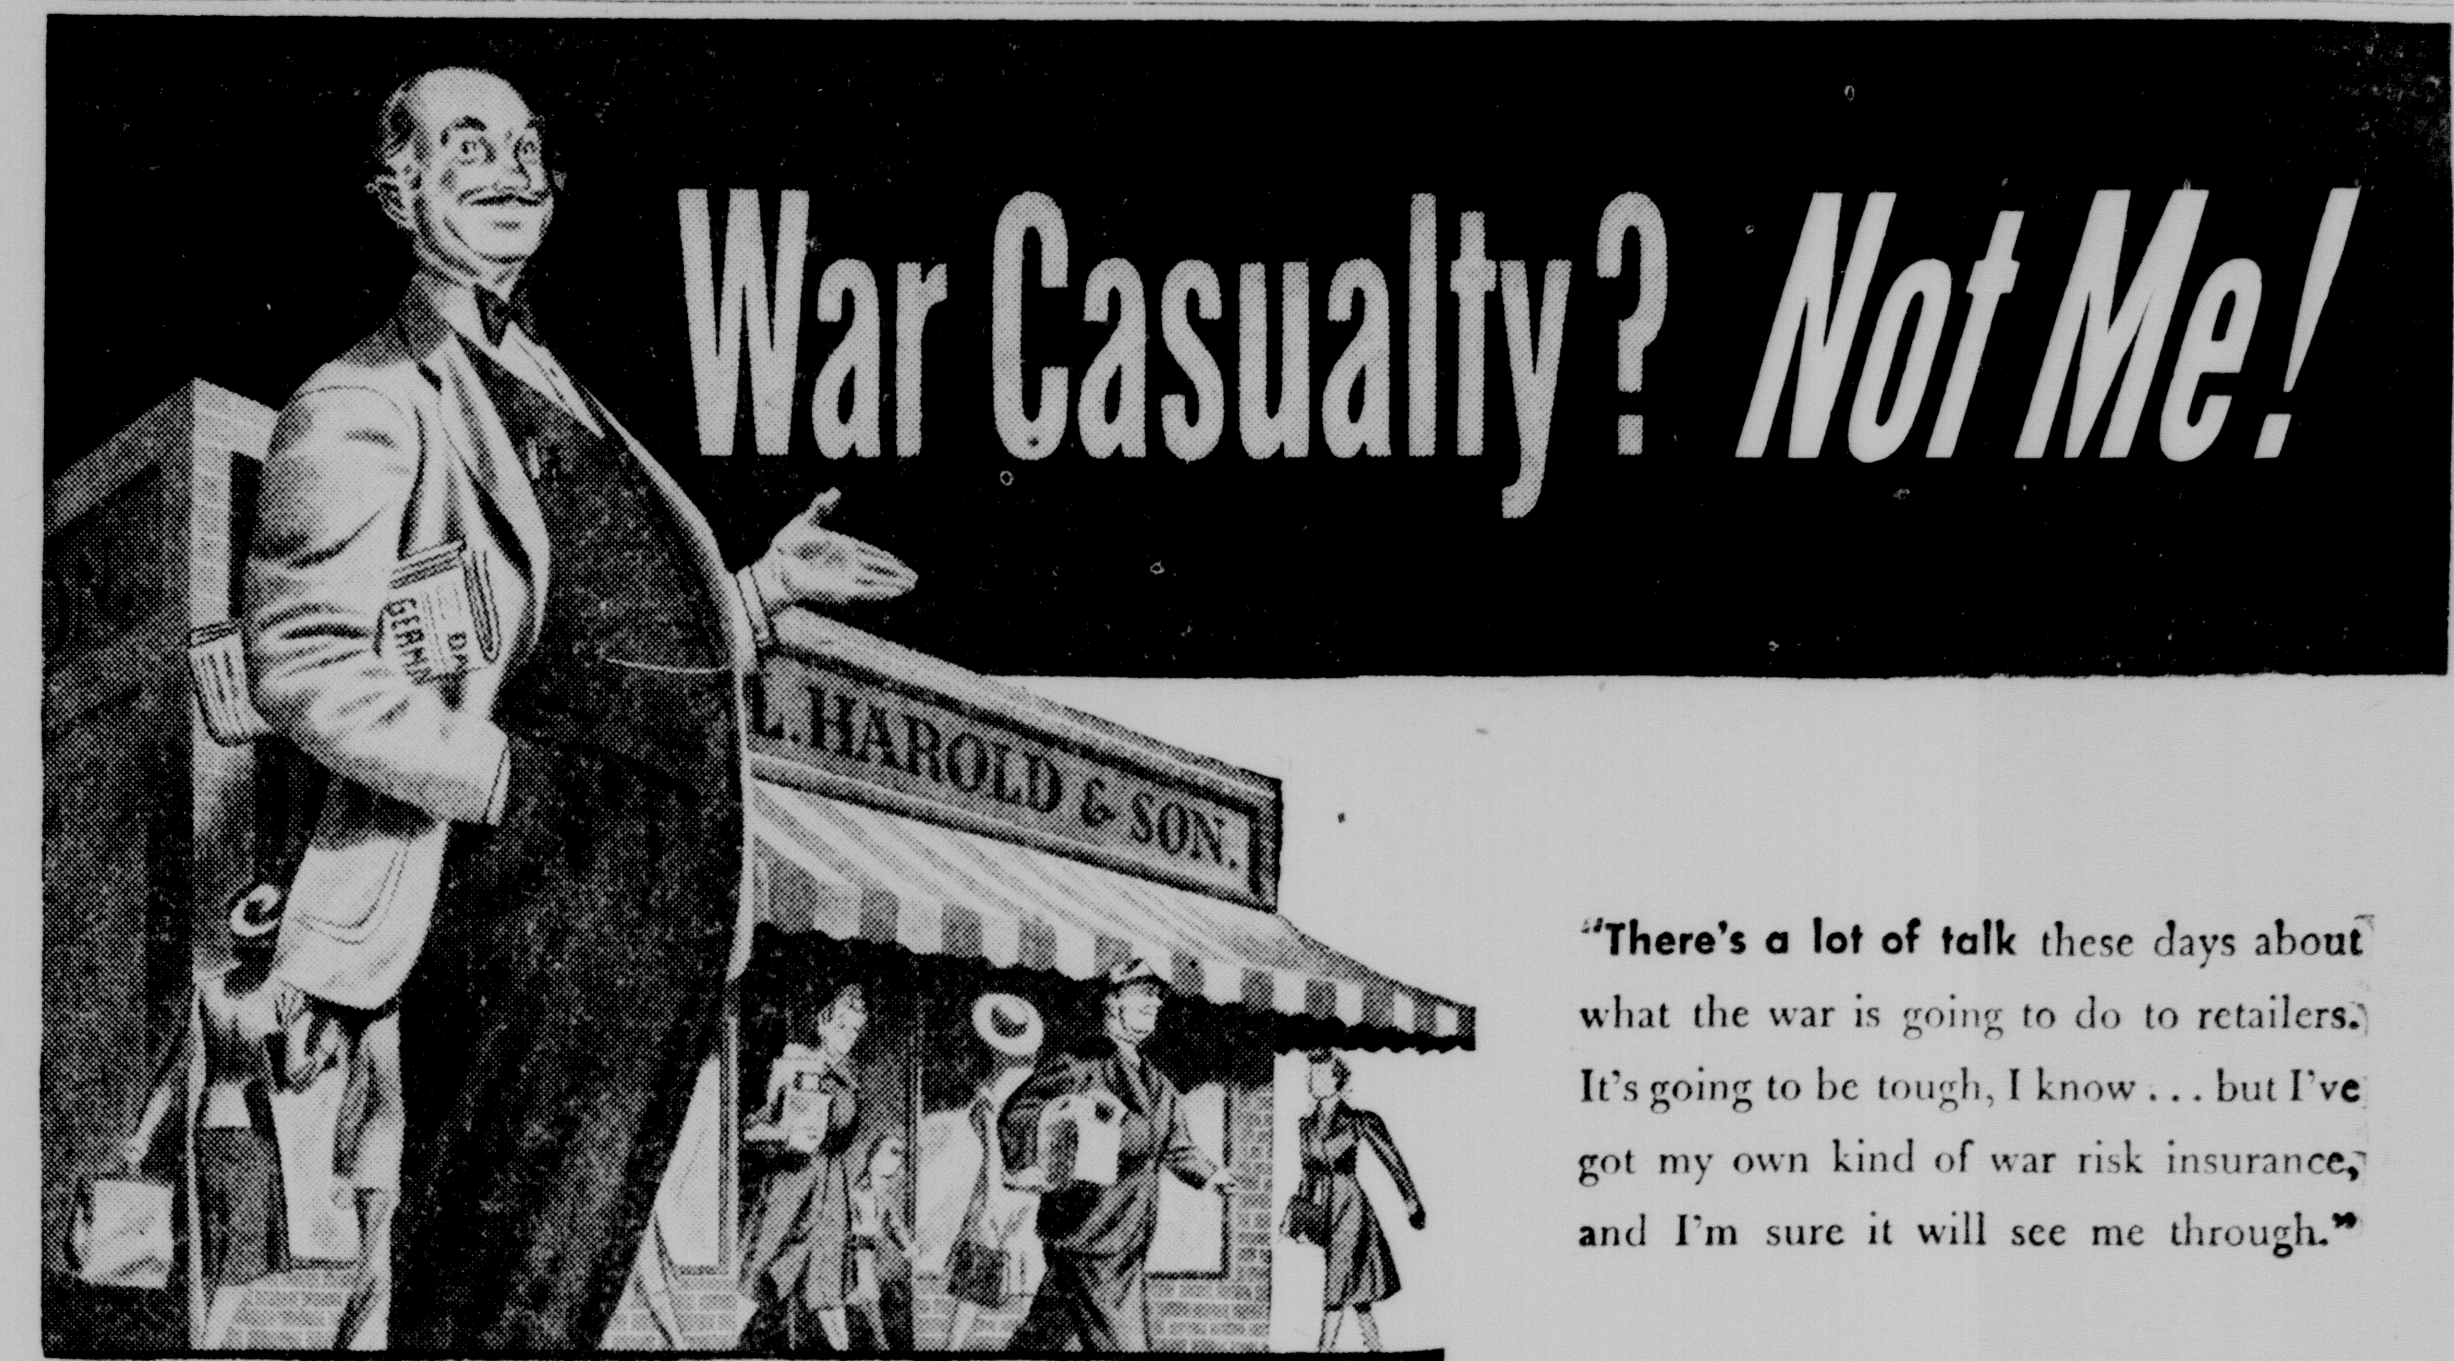

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—In 54 years George Kelley, 74-year-old machinist at the Baldwin Locomotive works, has never missed a day nor arrived late for work.

Kelley started working back in 1888 when he recalls "our work day was 14 hours."

Kelley, a skilled machine tool worker, is working side by side with the youngsters and women at Baldwin, but because of his long record he works only five days a week.

Small horses still run wild in North Carolina. They are believed to be descendants of animals landed during some 17th century Spanish exploration period.

"There's a lot of talk these days about what the war is going to do to retailers. It's going to be tough, I know... but I've got my own kind of war risk insurance, and I'm sure it will see me through."

1. "Now, even more than in normal times, people want the best they can get for their money. So I make it a point to feature the well-known advertised brands... especially the ones advertised right here in our local newspapers."

2. "When a product's scarce, I try to make sure my customers know exactly why. Of course, that's a lot easier when the manufacturer tells the story in newspaper ads. I often tear out such ads myself and display them here in the store."

3. "When items disappear, I don't just sit around biting my nails, wondering what to do. I get busy, stock new items... and whenever I learn that a new product is advertised in newspapers in my town, I make it a 'must' to get it."

4. "Believe me, it's already paying out, too. With enough satisfied customers, a merchant can weather a lot of storms. And the best way I know to keep 'em satisfied is to give 'em the products they all read about in the ads in our local papers."

War is teaching retailers everywhere a lot about advertising that they've never realized before. More and more, smart retailers are reaping benefits from the newspaper advertising support they get from manufacturers... benefits that are multiplied when retailers, in turn, back up newspaper-advertised products.

Nelson Is Uncertain On Huge Army Plans

By HORACE M. COATS

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—War Production Board Chairman Donald M. Nelson today told a Senate agriculture subcommittee that he does not know whether the nation can equip, arm and transport an army of 8,000,000 men and at the same time raise all the food and provide all the equipment needed both for the United States and her allies.

He refused, however, to dispute the judgment of military chiefs in their plans for 10,000,000 men in the armed services.

Nelson also informed the subcommittee that production of 100 octane gasoline, needed in airplanes, is running behind schedule.

Sen. Thomas (D) Okla., asked Nelson what size army the country can support.

"The army and navy chiefs say what they want and it is up to us to do everything we can to make that possible," said Nelson.

"I cannot answer whether it can be done. We can equip it and provide things needed to train it. Whether we can do this and at the same time raise all the food and provide all the equipment needed for us and our allies, I don't know."

Meanwhile, the Senate disregarded party lines today in a split over advisability of investigations into the manpower question with a view to limiting the size of the nation's armed forces.

Comment on the critical manpower situation ranged from proposals to limit all inquiries to one committee to charges that "some senators are not ready yet to consider this an all-out war."

The split occurred as appointment of a subcommittee by Sen. McKellar (D) Tenn., acting chairman of the appropriations committee, to inquire into the necessity for the proposed combined armed force of 12,000,000 men was forthcoming.

The appropriations committee unanimously adopted a resolution for a study of the entire manpower problem, as the military affairs committee continued its hearings on the matter.

Ask Police To Seek Four Boys

City authorities today were requested to institute a search for four youths, reportedly missing from home. Two of the youths are believed to have departed together while a third is believed to be headed for a west slope army camp where a brother is located.

George Moses, 17, of 15 West Long avenue and John Joseph, 17, 1100 block, Scioto street, apparently left together yesterday.

Harold Decker, 17, of 21 Kurtz street is believed journeying toward either Washington or Oregon states. He departed Monday. A brother is said to be located in a camp in either of those states.

Herbert Cook, 17, of 17 O'Brien street has been missing several days, the police report stated.

Glen and family of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Harry Forney of Berlin, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. John Davies, Homestead, and Mr. and Mrs. David T. Johns and daughter, Mary, of All-quippa, have returned, after attending the funeral of the late George R. B. Houston, 120 East Grant street, Sunday.

Given Instructions About Resuscitators

City firemen and some police Monday were given instructions as to how to properly operate the resuscitators given to the city recently by the Lawrence County Chapter for Infantile Paralysis.

The instructions were given by a factory representative. After the instructions have been given and the oxygen tanks have been refilled, one resuscitator will be kept at the fire department and the other at the city police department, according to Public Safety Director David D. Davies.

Birthday Of Gen. MacArthur

(International News Service)

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS, in Australia, Jan. 26.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur was 63 years old today, but there were no formal celebrations to mark the anniversary. It was just another day of hard work at United Nations headquarters.

By a remarkable coincidence today was also the birthday anniversary of Australia. It was 155 years today that the first British settlers reached the island continent and ran up the flag of England at a point where the city of Sydney now stands.

Admiral Read Asserts Axis Blockade Runners Desperate, Dangerous

By JOHN R. HENRY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD A FLAGSHIP, Somewhere in the Pacific, Jan. 26—Asserting that Axis blockade runners "must be driven off the seas," Rear Admiral O. M. Read indicated yesterday that the enemy has resorted to desperate measures to obtain critical war materials.

In command of a division of ships, Admiral Read leads a task group in South Atlantic waters. His aircraft already have prevented at least one blockade runner from reaching its destination.

Admiral Read told this reporter: "The enemy apparently is rather desperate for certain strategic war materials. In sending merchant vessels on a run between the French coast and Japan they consequently are taking desperate measures to obtain such supplies.

"Our efforts against enemy blockade runners increase in proportion to the number of ships made available for this purpose."

"These enemy merchant ships must be driven off the seas."

Supplies Not Disclosed

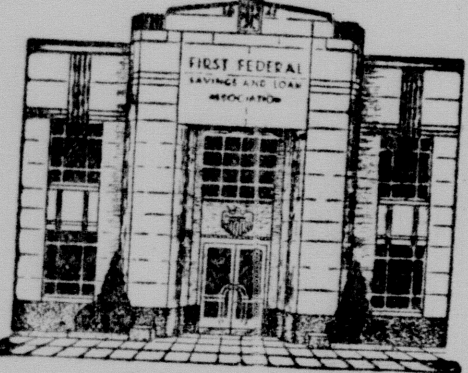

Admiral Read did not disclose the nature of the supplies being exchanged between the European Axis members and the Japs. He indicated, however, that the enemy cargo vessels carry a full load both on their way from occupied France to the Orient and from Japan back to Germany's French coast ports.

Hunting down enemy blockade runners is nothing new to Admiral Read. He was doing the same job in the last world war aboard United States submarines. He served in the O-9 and K-W in the Atlantic.

In progressing to his present rank, he also did tours of duty in destroyers and cruisers. As Captain Read, he commanded a cruiser in the Pacific at the outbreak of war, subsequently was promoted to Rear Admiral and transferred for service in the Atlantic.

Lend-Lease Is Not One-Sided

Australia, New Zealand Providing Food For U. S.
Troops In South Pacific

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26—Lend-lease is far from a one-sided affair, Charles Denby, Jr., assistant administrator of the lend-lease program, reiterated today.

While admitting that the United States has carried the burden of lend-lease in its early stages, aid from our allies to us has now reached huge proportions.

Denby pointed out that lend-lease experts are not responsible for the food shortage in this country, adding that supplies received by American forces in the southwest Pacific from Australia and New Zealand already have included more brating this anniversary.

Acting Secretaries Named By Governor

Senate's Delay In Confirming
Two Cabinet Appointments Causes Move

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 26—Because of the Senate's delay in confirming two of Gov. Edward Martin's cabinet appointees, two acting secretaries today took over the administration of the departments of public assistance and highways.

Thomas C. Frame, chief highways engineer, and David Wallace, public assistance controller, have been named by the chief executive to head the two state agencies.

Democratic senators, whose votes are needed for confirmation, are withholding action on John U.
Shroyer, Shamokin dress manufacturer, as secretary of highways, and Samuel Y. Ramage III, Oil City hotel man, as secretary of public assistance, pending further study of their qualifications.

even a well-planned budget can't save you IF——you neglect your electric appliances until they break down beyond the point of repair. Then you'll have to go back to the inconvenience and manual labor of pre-electric servant days. The manufacturer who made your refrigerator, iron, toaster, and other appliances, is now making war equipment. Except for the few items remaining in some stores, there are no appliances for money to buy.

TAKE CARE OF THE ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT YOU USE; MAKE IT LAST

DON'T OVERWORK APPLIANCES—Refrigerators so overloaded that circulation of air is impossible—Straining vacuum cleaners, futilely trying to push air through a bag packed tight with dirt from previous sweepings—Food mixers, given tasks suitable for concrete mixers, are extravagances to be indulged in only when replacement of appliances is possible. If your judgment can't determine the straining point of an appliance, ask for detailed information.

OIL 'EM—Machinery is impractical without oil. It can't work long, if at all, without it. If your appliances are oil-dry, it will be a matter of a short time until their use is ended. Use oil according to directions.

KEEP 'EM CLEAN—Cleanliness is not only a matter of pride and sanitation where your electric appliances are concerned.
Cleanliness is a preventative measure against corrosion and short-circuiting. Keep your appliances dirt and water-free.

HAVE 'EM CHECKED—Don't worry about the loss of the use of your electric appliances. Have an electric appliance repairman look them over and it will save you from doing manually the job electric servants do for you.

Honor Students Rotary Guests

Hear Address By Dr. John A. Entz, Of Slippery Rock State Teachers College

INTRODUCED BY PRINCIPAL BOOK

New Castle Rotary club entertained the honor students of the mid-term graduating class at senior high school at 7:30 weekly luncheon meeting at 10:00 Monday when the class heard some sage advice from Dr. John A. Entz, president of Slippery Rock State Teachers college.

Dr. Entz reminded his audience of the remarkable age in which they are living, which has brought forth the radio, motion pictures, the automobile and airplane among other things, and told them how fortunate they are to enjoy these benefits and to progress with them in this fast moving age.

He urged them to seek a worthwhile place in life so that their name would stand for something constructive.

The students were introduced by Principal Clare B. Book of the high school and were accompanied by Miss Mildred Burleson, class supervisor.

The honor students, who were present, were: Dorothy Anderson, Kathleen Angelo, Harry King, Robert Calvin, Betty Casaccia, Margaret Clement, Ruth Cole, Lois Leach, Eva Lesniak, Joanne Louer, Greta McGaffie, Gene McIlvaine, Edice Norris, Phyllis Pugh, Rony Russo, Betty Stritzinger, Harry Thompson and Virginia Vito.

Other honor students, who have already left to attend various colleges, and who were unable to be present, are: Eleanor Chapman, Robert Dufford, William Eckles, Judd Healy, Kenneth Scheppele and Joseph Vogan.

Health Talks

PSITTACOSIS

This is a disease of parrots and some other birds, especially love birds.

Some years ago there was an epidemic in this country. New Castle had a few cases too.

Since then, there has been a pretty strict quarantine. Birds must be eight months old before they can be shipped from one state to another. Those coming from a foreign country must be under quarantine for 15 days.

People get the disease from sick birds. It is a very serious illness and sometimes people die of it. There have been no cases here for a long while, as far as we know. It is a good idea to know about it anyhow.

Russell Rohrer, of this city, a senior at Geneva college who is majoring in civil engineering, has completed an exhibit of small-scale models (1 inch to 100 feet) of the ships of the German fleet as of the beginning of the war. The exhibit is on display in the case in the public library and gives the complete picture of the fleet as it was at that time except for submarines, on which no information is available.

Rohrer devoted several months of his spare time to making the tiny ship models. He made them originally for a game which midshipmen play at Annapolis to learn tactics. And in a book called, "Fighting Ships", from the public library, he got information and drawings which helped him carry out his idea.

Plainly labeled with the names of the ships, available information of their movements during the war, and present whereabouts if known, are miniature battleships, pocket battleships, carriers, heavy cruisers, light cruisers, gunnery training ships, destroyers, escort destroyers, E boat, and coastal sub. Accompanying photographs are interesting examples of table-top photography.

Expert Here To Give Ideas On Saving Clothes

War On Waste Is Urged By Conservation Expert Making Stop In City

MRS. DORATHEA COOK
Washability Expert from the Lux Laboratories.

"You don't have to wear a uniform to be in the army," says Mrs. Dorathea Cook, clothes conservation expert from the Lux Laboratories who is at Strouss-Hirshberg's this week.

"One of the most important units in this war is the army of housewives—women who are fighting the War on Waste All over the country. Women are salvaging waste materials, saving fats and greases. With the Army using unprecedented quantities of all materials, the old saying 'Waste not, want not' has become an important war slogan. 'Saving what you have is as important, too, as salvaging what you can't use any longer. Every dress that's ruined by careless washing, every slip that needs replacing too soon, detracts from the war on waste. By caring properly for fabrics to prolong their wear, the Housewives' Army can actually help production by releasing machines for war use."

"Patching, turning shirt collars and handing down or making over outgrown garments are the traditional ways of making clothes do double duty. But there are other ways, too, of keeping things in good condition longer. 'Any woman can enlist in the Housewives' Army simply by volunteering to take better care of her nice things—all doubly precious now. And to make clothes care easy, the Lux Laboratories have prepared a compact Chart to LUXURY, giving washing, rinsing, and drying directions for over a dozen kinds of washables. You can get one at Strouss-Hirshberg's this week. It's a handy laundering guide printed on cardboard, suitable for thumb-tacking in a convenient place in your home, for ready reference."

AROUND CITY HALL

When council met in city hall Monday the city fathers adopted a resolution providing the rate of pay for Paul Marakas, collector of city delinquent taxes June 1. He will be paid three per cent commission on all liens accrued within three years and five per cent only on such liens submitted for collection by the city collector.

Council offered use of the city hall to the National Labor Board to conduct hearings beginning here February 8.

In council Monday a measure dedicating a continuation of Frank avenue for public travel was adopted. The continuation is bounded by East Washington street, the south line of the city, the Armory and south line of Frank avenue. The ordinance was adopted pursuant to a petition which requested the move.

Council in formal meeting Monday adopted the ordinance which sets the plumbing inspector's monthly wage at $185 and authorizes him to collect all fees in conjunction with his duties and turn them over to the city. Previously he received $125 monthly, plus fees.

When council met Monday, insurance companies presented to the city bids for insuring the city against liability for damage to property or injury to persons caused through the neglect of any city employee. The bids were referred for checking to Purchasing Agent J. D. Alexander and City Solicitor Robert M. White.

Governor Presents His Program To State Legislature

Sixteen Point Plan Presented

Views Of Governor Martin On Issues Confronting State Are Given

JOINT SESSION HEARS MESSAGE

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 26.—Gov. Edward Martin today recommended to the General Assembly for its consideration a 16-point wartime program embodying increased economy and home rule and less governmental interference.

Among other things, he urged the legislators to consider the enactment of legislation on congressional and legislative reapportionment, return of relief administration and costs to the counties, increased pay for teachers, extension of home rule and post-war planning. The administration program of the newly-inducted governor, who took the oath of office a week ago today, was presented to a joint session of the house and senate shortly after noon and was broadcast over the radio.

Governor's Views

Here, in his own words, are the governor's views on important legislation for this year's wartime session of the General Assembly:

1. Relief—"public assistance has not only been very expensive; it has had a tendency to wreck the morale of our people. It is suggested that this function be returned to the counties, with the state making a large contribution to the counties to assist them in taking care of the not employed. The state should retain a degree of supervision over the expenditure of these contributions. Consideration should also be given to the transfer of the work and duties of the department of public assistance to the department of welfare. All relief was consolidated in the hands of the state in 1937.

2. Reapportionment—"A fair and equitable re-districting and re-apportionment of our congressional, senatorial and legislative districts should have the immediate consideration of this legislature. The congressional districts were reapportioned last year but to no one's satisfaction, while assembly and senatorial seats have not been re-districted since 1921, despite a constitutional provision which requires reapportionment every 10 years.

(3) Post-war planning—"A post-war planning commission, with broad powers, should be established and start its work immediately. This commission will consider a long-range road program, flood control, reforestation, the building of dams on tributaries, and the construction of new public buildings and works. This commission must also consider the question of post-war employment in private industries."

(4) Taxation—"Certain legislation should be enacted making the payment and collection of taxes easier for the commonwealth and the taxpayer. The question of tax reduction will be discussed later this month in the governor's budget message.

(5) Manpower—"In order that all possible manpower may be used in winning the war we must eliminate as much government as possible. This applies to our state and local government activities."

(6) Education—"The question of upward revision of teachers' salaries, which shall be referred to the question of financial help for school districts."

(7) Veterans—"The act creating the veterans' commission should be so amended that the commission may have the opportunity of providing for adequate hospitalization and rehabilitation of our veterans."

(8) Civilian Defense—"Some provision should be made for compensating air raid wardens and others connected with civilian defense for injuries sustained in blackouts and other actual duties."

(9) Labor—"There has been suggested the creation of a labor and industrial commission, including representatives of labor and industry, to which shall be referred legislative proposals for more adequate and workable compensation laws and other matters affecting labor."

(10) Negroes—"These people should be afforded opportunities for employment."

(11) Local Government—"Every possible encouragement must be given local government by leaving taxing privileges and powers in its hands where it is feasible for the legislature to do so."

The governor also recommended that the General Assembly consider the enactment of legislation preventing "duplicated and unnecessary inspections in both agriculture and industry," strengthening of the health department's authority, delegation of authority to suspend certain requirements as to age limits for operating motor vehicles and for employment, authorizing the state education council to change school terms and to make greater use of teachers' colleges, especially for vocational training.

Transportation Adjustment Made At Grove City

Passenger, Mail, Express Problems Arise As Bessemer Discontinues Service

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Jan. 26.—This community, once served by eight daily passenger trains, sought to adjust passenger travel, mail and express business today after the last Bessemer passenger train went through Grove City last evening.

Mail is being handled on a temporary system by a star route from Sharon, through Mercer, Grove City, Slippery Rock and Butler. Express is being handled by two truck deliveries daily to and from New Castle. Passenger train travel, steadily increasing since the gasoline ban, must depend on crowded busses, with no connections to Greenville and other points.

The Commercial club wired a strenuous protest to the Public Utilities commission and to Governor Edward Martin, asking that the case be re-opened. A large delegation from here attended a Mercer meeting protesting the action, and obtained several hundred signatures here to a protest petition.

Soldiers Testify Connellsville Man Sold Them Pills To Fail Physical Tests

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—Walter C. "Doc" Crawford, 35, of near Connellsville, Fayette county, was held Monday under $2,500 bond for federal grand jury action after 19-year-old army privates testified that he sold them pills to help fail their army physical examinations.

The two witnesses were James C. Clifford and Harry F. Wood, both of Connellsville.

They told U. S. Commissioner Roger W. Knox that before they were inducted two weeks ago they went to Crawford's house and he sold them 13 pills and a capsule which he said would stimulate their heart action and increase their blood pressure.

By pre-arrangement with Fayette county detective L. A. Haggerty, and an FBI agent, Clifford said he gave Crawford $50 in marked money. The chiropractor was arrested after the transaction with the money in his possession.

Hippopotamus Now Available As Pet

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—If anyone is in the market for a couple of hippopotamuses or other pets, such as a rhinoceros, or eight black bears, or some antelopes, giraffes, or say, 30 baboons, Chicago's Brookfield zoo would like to get in touch with the person right away.

The zoo director, Edward H. Bean, said today that gasoline rationing has cut the attendance at the zoo by about 32 per cent. Then, the meat scarcity has made feeding of the carnivorous animals something of a problem, so director Bean would like to reduce the animal population as soon as possible.

MERCY HOSPITAL

STRIKE IS QUIET

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—No disturbances were reported at the Mercy hospital in Pittsburgh today where a dozen kitchen employees have been out on strike since Sunday.

Hospital attaches reported that replacements for the strikers had been secured and that hospital operations had returned to normal. It was understood that the strikers were not affiliated with any union.

BARACA CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS

During the Sunday school session of the First Baptist church, the Baraca class elected the following officers: Roy McGaffie, president; Joe Zeigler, vice president; William McCallion, secretary; David Kish, treasurer; Leonard Dandy is the teacher.

This class was organized some time before World War No. 1, by the late Fred Beer, and sister, Mrs. Mabel Elliott, who saw it grow to a membership of 51. For World War No. 1, 41 members enlisted or were drafted into service. Two years ago, the remaining members merged with the Men's Bible class.

The class taught by Ralph Hay of about 15 young men was taken over, and became known as the Baraca class. These young men have enlisted or been drafted into World War No. 2. The present Baraca class, consisting of 16 young men, are in the teen age, still in high school. They were formerly members of Clarence Glasser's class, now in U. S. Service, and Frank Hay's class.

Giants Disregard Frick's Contract Mailing Command

Send Out 33 Documents Before Wage Ruling; May Cause Repercussions

W. L. B. MAY STEP IN WITH DECREE

By JACK MAHON

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—The New York Giants have launched a very important trial balloon by sending out contracts to some 33 players and if it isn't punctured by governmental ruling baseball will breathe a deep, grateful sigh of relief. Because the action was in direct contrast to a request by league president, Frick that no club should open negotiations until given a wage ruling by Washington, the move might have serious repercussions and cause hold-out and player-club arguments throughout the baseball world.

The situation at a glance is this: Frick and American League prey William Harbridge asked clubs of their respective leagues not to send out contracts or negotiate in any way with their players until the economic stabilization office clarified the position of baseball players as to salary, standing, etc.

WLB Has Say

The War Labor Board has jurisdiction over players making up to $5,000, and the Office of Economic Stabilization has the say-so on gentlemen making more than $5,000.

The Giants' treasurer, Leo Bondy, however, being of a legal turn of mind, obtained coinciding opinions from the New York regional boards of both offices and the club decided to lead the parade and start ironing out their contract problems without waiting for the green light from anyone.

If Washington should rule that baseball wages be frozen, players who are in the line for increases are sure to feel they are being unwittingly victimized and may react in several ways. Some of them who would have received a good boost in dough may even quit for a defense job and the playing value of such individuals could easily be impaired.

If the Giants are on the right track, the average man may want to know why it is a ballplayer can get a raise and he can't. We believe if the Giants ruling is correct, the government has passed it because of the limited career of a baseball player and the special nature of his job.

Career Last 10 Years

Ball players in the majors figure on a ten year career. The average length of a major league's career ranges from seven to ten years; those that last longer, at good salaries, are exceptional individuals.

Thus a player has nothing to look forward to except the day when his legs no longer will allow him to hold his job against the pressure of youthful competition. He cannot cement his job with seniority—each year he plays hastens his retirement.

This fact, the special training and ability needed to make the grade in big league baseball, and the competitive nature of the job are solid arguments against any "freezing" of wages.

THINKS ABOUT MATES

FORT MYERS, Fla.—Although he has temporarily quit his "hot corner" playing for "dem bums," Private Lew Riggs, former Brooklyn Dodger, is still thinking of his teammates and what they will do during the 1943 baseball season. Riggs, like the rest of the 42 Dodger team and followers emphatically assert: "Last season don't count."

Mickey Vernon, Washington first baseman, is likely to join many former mates in the service before spring training time arrives.

JEFFRIES RECALLS CHOYNSKI'S PUNCH

(International News Service)

BURBANK, Cal., Jan. 26.—Former Champion James J. Jeffries today recalled his 20-round fight in 1897 with Joe Choynski, famous oldtime fighter who died yesterday at Cincinnati.

"I'll never forget that fight," Jeffries said. "Joe hit me with the hardest punch of any man I ever fought."

"Coming off the ropes, he banged me with a short right that broke my nose and drove my lips into my teeth."

The fight, held in San Francisco, Nov. 30, 1897, went 20 rounds to a draw. Jeffries now lives at Burbank, where he stages regular boxing shows at his famed "barn."

Perry's Tennis Career Is Over

(International News Service)

SANTA ANA, Cal., Jan. 26.—Forced into retirement from the courts by an injury to his right elbow suffered two years ago, Fred Perry, former world's amateur tennis champion, abandoned hope today he ever would be able to play again.

Perry, who became an American citizen in 1940 and now is a staff sergeant directing the physical conditioning program at Santa Ana air base, said he could scarcely raise his right arm shoulder high. The former tennis star said he hurt his arm when he fell while chasing a shot in a professional match with Bobby Riggs at Madison Square Garden in December, 1941.

"They said an operation might help, but I knew the arm never would be the same and I was through with tennis," Perry declared.

Church Flippers Continue 2nd Half Loop Title Derby

Central Christians, Epworths And Second U. P. Monday Night Winners

New Castle Church Basketball league foes continued their second half bombardment Monday night on the Y. M. C. A. court.

In a heated affair, Central Christians added their second win by edging Croton, 30-26. The winners sported a 10-11 halftime margin.

Fleeger and Hopper were high men for the victors while G. Adams and B. Nelson carried the load for the Crotonites.

Win Third Straight

Second U. P. annexed its third successive loop triumph by jarring the Third U. P. 38-23. The winners clinched the decision in the first half by running up a 17-4 advantage.

David and Francis, star players, Bob and Francis, starred for the Second U. P. Caldwell and Myers highlighted the losers' attack.

The Epworths rang the victory bell for the third straight by walling the First Baptists, 45-26. The entire starting lineup shared in the triumph while McCallion and Hay featured for the Baptists.

Westminster Resumes Schedule In Pittsburgh Following Mid-Term Exams

CLASH IS 23RD BETWEEN SCHOOLS

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 26.—Swinging back into action again after their annual mid-semester examination lay-off, the Towering Titans of Westminster college will travel to Pittsburgh tomorrow to face the Tartans of Carnegie Tech. It will be the rivals' first meeting this season.

Although they got off to a poor start at the beginning of the year, the Titans have done much to improve their record with a win over Bethany, a one-sided triumph over the Hiram Terriers and a stand-out performance against the Duquesne Dukes.

Coach Max Hannum's Plaid cagers who have blown hot and cold in past encounters, will be out shooting to reach the 500 mark.

Twenty-Third Clash

When the referees' whistle blows for the tip-off it will sound the beginning of the 23rd contest between Westminster and Carnegie Tech in a series that dates back to 1922. The Blue and White holds the edge in the series, according to the records, with a showing of 15 victories to only seven for the Tartans.

Next home game for the Titans will be with West Liberty here Friday night, Jan. 29. Tiel college was originally scheduled to fill the date but canceled its varsity schedule, and Titan Coach Grover Washbaugh arranged a game with West Liberty.

In the limelight Friday will be the playing of the West Liberty varsity center who recently scored 40 points against Salem college to even better the total of Salem's "Broom" Abramovic, who netted 26.

Executive, 66, Resting Comfortably; Suffers Heart Attack Monday

(International News Service)

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 26.—Frank Calder, president of the National Hockey League who suffered a heart attack while attending a meeting of the board of the governors of the league, rested comfortably today, hospital attendants reported.

The 66-year old executive was stricken when the governors gathered for the afternoon session. Calder has been president of the league since it was organized in 1927.

An hour before he was taken ill, Calder had outlined to newspapermen arrangements for the 1942-43 Stanley cup playoffs.

He said the governors had decided to match the first place club against the team finishing third in one best-of-seven semi-final series starting March 20 or 21 with the second and fourth clubs playing a separate best-of-seven series. The winner of each semi-final will meet in another best-of-seven series for the cup.

In each series the team finishing higher in the standings will be accorded choice of ice for the first two games.

Flips Unerringly

The Wampus whiz, who unerringly flips the 350 or slightly more through the 18-inch ring like a veteran fireman feeds a coal-starved giant stove, has scorched the cords for 282 points in 14 contests, averaging 20.1 points, so far this season.

In local dribbling precincts, the Class B star ranks as the top scorer in the annals of the game, topping the elongated Paul "Lefty" Minner, famous New Wilmington high ace of a few seasons back, and Francis "Slim" Wainio, New Castle high slider during the tail end of the '20's.

Records fail to disclose the name of a localite who amassed the one grand total in high school play here. With eight more clashes dotting the "Indians" card, exclusive of tonight's fray Craine is a cinch to establish a local mark that will stand for many seasons to come.

Card Is Dull

Aside from Craine's effort to shatter the mark, the cage date book is uneventful. The Shenango-Mt. Jackson Section 21 game, scratched last week, is being run off this afternoon at East New Castle.

Bessemer travels to Lowellville for a non-league engagement with the Lowellvillers and New Wilmington, awaiting the invasion of Wampus Friday night in a crucial Section 21 game involving first place, enjoys a needed rest.

Union Township and East Brook are listed as idle.

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Jan. 26.—The boxing game seemed definitely on the comeback in Detroit today as Promoter Nick Lodones announced that Ray "Sugar" Robinson, crack New York welterweight, and Jake LaMotta, Bronx middleweight, will clash in Olympia on February 5.

The match is set for 10 rounds at 160 pounds.

MOSE BROWN

IS FINED $150

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—Mose Brown, McKeesport light heavyweight Negro boxer, today had paid a fine of $150 after pleading guilty to two firearms violations.

Mose admitted that on November 20 at a McKeesport tavern, he held 10 persons at bay with a revolver while his sister, Ellen, staged an impromptu fight with an unidentified colored girl.

Brown explained that he carried a revolver because "everyone is afraid to fight me with their fists."

EX-COACH SERVES

CAGE EYES TILTED TOWARD DARLINGTON AND CRAINE TONIGHT

Wampus Scoring Wizard Eyes "Grand Total"; Needs Only 6 Points

LOCAL CAGE CARD HITS DULL MARK

Local basketball optics tonight will be tilted in the direction of Darlington—a whistle stop on the cage run.

In the Beaver Valley Hamlet, planted about 15 miles from here, most of the 350 or slightly more inhabitants will gather round to watch Wampus and Darlington high unfurl their technique.

One of the 10 schoolboys—Coy "Springy" Craine, a 6 foot 1 performer—will command attention as he peeks away at the hoops. If he succeeds in scoring six points, the cage-going colored star will extend his schoolboy scoring mark to the incredible 1,600 figure!

The Wampus whiz, who unerringly flips the 350 or slightly more through the 18-inch ring like a veteran fireman feeds a coal-starved giant stove, has scorched the cords for 282 points in 14 contests, averaging 20.1 points, so far this season.

In local dribbling precincts, the Class B star ranks as the top scorer in the annals of the game, topping the elongated Paul "Lefty" Minner, famous New Wilmington high ace of a few seasons back, and Francis "Slim" Wainio, New Castle high slider during the tail end of the '20's.

Records fail to disclose the name of a localite who amassed the one grand total in high school play here. With eight more clashes dotting the "Indians" card, exclusive of tonight's fray Craine is a cinch to establish a local mark that will stand for many seasons to come.

FAIR OR FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—There will be enough color to fill a good-sized bucket at the annual get-together of the New York Boxing Writers' Association, Feb. 17, when Colonel Harvey L. Miles, United States Marine Corps, receives the Edward J. Neil memorial trophy on behalf of Corporal Barney Ross. Colonel Miles, known more familiarly as "Harvey," was once president of the National Boxing Association, and earlier he the featherweight and bantamweight titles in the navy. Beginning his military service in 1906, he served in Cuba, the Philippines, China, Haiti, Nicaragua and Mexico, as well as the first world war.

Another who will be present at the dinner will be Colonel Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, also U. S. M. C., who has been known for years as the "society boxer," had matches in his youth with many of the men who are now known as all-time ring greats, and had them just for fun. He fought a draw with Philadelphia Jack O'Brien and took on such high-ranking fighters as Kid McCoy and Gene Tunney. Now, at 68, he trains marines in commando tactics.

Pep Even Money

Although he has piled an unbroken string of 58 victories behind him, Willie Pep, the New York version of the featherweight champ, will go into the ring at even money against Alvin Karpis in the 10-round Madison Square Garden go Friday night. This will be Willie's first appearance here since he wrestled the crown from Chalky Wright on Nov. 20, when a record was established for receipts involving featherweights in an indoor match, the gate being $71,000.

The argument for even money seems to have mainly to do with the showings of both Willie and Karpis against Wright. The current feather king had his hands full with the Negro battler in the title bout, while Karpis showed much better. Stolz, however, can lose interest in a fight, as he did in his scrap with Beau Jack, losing on a technical knockout after the Georgian cut his eye.

The three New York ball clubs are intent on getting as much youth into their pitching squads as possible. The Yankees, for instance, have their youngsters coming up for a mound test, the Giants seven and the Dodgers four. The Giants have two boys who have never even crunched up in their farm system.

The West Texas State basketball team, which won the national title, Texas again, known as the tallest basketball squad in the country, is here to meet Long Island university in the feature of Madison Square Garden's Thursday double-header. The 6 ft. 3 average of the club measures up to their scoring standards, the Texans having a 62-point average for their first seven games.

As far as the Millrose games committee is concerned, there isn't a war on. For, reversing the problems most sports are facing due to the manpower shortage and ODT restrictions, the committee is wondering what to do with the gang of track and field stars who wanted to be listed for the annual games at the Garden on Feb. 6. They already have a list of 10 qualified milers, among them Gil Dodds, Earl Mitchell, Walter Mehl, Frank Duxon and Jim Lafferty.

Shift Widener

It is being argued that the Widener handicap, Hialeah Park's richest prize, could be transferred—with a reduction in the purse—to New Orleans, where most of the equine stars listed in the Widener are gathered. Whirlaway is there, as are Riverland, Requested, Valdina Orphan, Rounders, Staretor, Midland, Marriage, Signator, Technician, Bright Gallant, Corydon and Flights. With such an array of great names, it looks as if New Orleans would take on the rich cream of Belmont, but the blue-bloods would rather remain idle than draw an extra breath for pin money.

Griffith stadium, in Washington, appears to hold a little hard luck for American league batting champion Ted Williams. Although he has hammered out 36 home runs last season to top his circuit, he never got one in the capital.

GIRL SUSTAINS PECULIAR INJURY

Sarah Ann McMullen, aged 17 years, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital, at 3:45 o'clock Monday afternoon, for a peculiar injury suffered while in school. Miss McMullen was forcing a crochet hook through a sheet, when the sharp hooked needle was plunged into the palm of her hand.

She was taken to the hospital, where the hook was removed.

Tunis, with a population of 219,000, contains 93,000 Mohammedans and 50,000 French.

Ten On Bomber Die In Crash In New Mexico

(International News Service)
TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 26.—Ten of the 12 men aboard an army bomber were killed when the plane crashed at the Mescalero Indian reservation near Belden, N. M., Topeka air base officials reported today. The other two parachuted to safety.

The dead included: Dave R. Feder, Danville, N. Y., and Staff Sgt. L. G. Fuller, Ironton, O.

Action On "Mystery Baby" Case Delayed

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—There will be no official action taken in the case of Pittsburgh's "mystery baby" until hospital officials correct an injured arm, it has been reported today.

The baby, Robert (Bert) Tyson, 2½ years, was abandoned by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leland Tyson, of Youngstown, O., last December 1. Following an extensive search the parents were located and confessed the abandonment. The father was sentenced to serve a short sentence in the county workhouse and the mother, only 18, was ordered transferred to the women's industrial home at Muncy until after the next child is born.

MAN HAS BACK BURNED
W. J. Ruble, of 141 Boyles avenue, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 2:05 P. M. Monday for burns of the back, received while at his work, when he was splashed with hot water.

FROM ME TO YOU

TULAGI

In Tulagi's Hills where memories lay, of brave Marines now laid away. Who fought for life and freedom's sake, And also to avenge the fall of "Wake". But now some lie in shallow graves, In a grassy field beyond the waves.

The battle lasted two days and nights.

And here and there we had our fights. The foe were shrewd and seasoned Japs. Concealed in trees and ravine gaps. Who sniped all day and roamed at night. Like cowards scared and afraid to fight.

Two days of this was enough to stand.

So we killed them off and took their land. Grenades and sticks of dynamite. Were mostly used to win this fight. The caves were blown and well secured. And from the trees the rest were lured.

By thoughts of food and water too.

And a hopeless task to try to do. When once they left their leafy poles. They fell down dead; shot full of holes.

No mercy did we show these Japs.

Who we considered only saps. A group of things, not even men. Who fought their best, at one to their ten. And finally found they admitted defeat. By men it's hard to try to beat.

A few came in with flags of truce.

Their ribs stuck out and clothing loose. We gave them smokes and food and drink. And when they finished, we watched them think. And finally flash a hopeful glance. Which meant they thanked us for the chance.

To live and act like men once more.

Instead of fools knowing only war.

The fight was over, the battle won.

And here in place of the Rising Sun. Old Glory waved, real high and proud. But late that day her stripes were bowed. For our men, who will never see A fight again.

The above poem was written by George Gilbert Payne, now with the armed forces of the United States. A. George is a New Castle man and when he was here worked at the Shenango Pottery. Today the men and women who worked with him here are now doing their part buying bonds so that George might come home with victory.

Notice Of Proposed Compromise Of Taxes

I hereby give notice that I have filed my Petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Lawrence County, Pennsylvania at No. 52 March Term, 1943, M.D., praying the Court to approve an agreement entered into between me and the Commissioners of Lawrence County, providing for the compromise of the taxes on two properties formerly of Charles C. Robinson, deceased, situated in the Township of Slippery Rock, Lawrence County, Pa., and in the Second Ward of the City of New Castle, bounded on the South by Lincoln, on the East by the East Blaine street, fronting 60 feet on Lincoln avenue and extending back even with a distance of 160 feet. The said properties were sold to the County Commissioners for non-payment of School Taxes by State No. 25 on May 1, 1940 and also on the same date by Sale No. 22 to the County Commissioners for non-payment of County and District Taxes. Second parcel was sold to the County Commissioners for non-payment of County and District Taxes under Sale No. 2095 and is situated in the First Ward of the City of New Castle, County and State of Pennsylvania, bounded on the East by Shango street, on the West by an alley, and on the North and South by land of John Harvey, Trustee, having a frontage of 36 feet on Shango street and extending back even with a distance of 150 feet. The taxes, penalties, interest and costs to be compromised amount to $4,338.82. The sum offered in compromise is $2,000.00 and the costs of this proceeding.

The Court has fixed Monday, February 1, 1943, at 9 o'clock A.M., at the Court House in New Castle, Pennsylvania as the time and place for hearing and for the filing of objections thereto may be made at or prior to said hearing.

HARVEY, Trustee, Administrator of Charles C. Robinson.

Tonight's News Bolsters Market

Coming Announcement, Good War News Zoom Stocks In Upward Direction

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Despite considerable profit-taking the stock market went into new high ground for more than a year today.

After a generally higher opening many stocks were sent below previous closings, but enough issues maintained plus signs to keep the averages higher. Volume was moderate.

The selling was due in part to the announcement tonight which is expected to be of world-wide importance. The continued good war news had a bolstering effect.

Among shares to reach peak levels for 1942-43 were General Motors, Texas Co., Barnsdall Oil, General Electric, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Deere, J. I. Case and Oliver Farm. Gains ran from fractions to a point.

Stocks were buoyant as were chemicals. Motors turned irregular after a firm start. Chrysler went under its previous close. Mixed tendencies developed also in rails, utilities, coppers and electrical equipments.

Bonds again were featured by further strength in rails. Grains and cotton slipped slightly.

Rev. John Smith Is Club Speaker

College Members Have Interesting Meeting At Home Of Mrs. W. R. Grocott

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 26.—Twenty-five members of the Ellwood City College club were welcomed last night for the January meeting at the home of Mrs. W. R. Grocott, Johnston Drive.

Rev. John Smith, recently returned missionary from Japan, was the guest speaker and gave an interesting talk on the progress and conditions of the school in Japan. Mrs. Smith, who also taught in the Japanese schools, also made contributory remarks on the subject with an open discussion following.

Miss Rebecca McKnight of Allentown, Pa., a student at Westminster, who is visiting with her aunt, Miss Elizabeth McKnight, was a special guest.

Mrs. Robert Jones and Mrs. Oscar Emerich were associate hostesses with Mrs. Grocott and served a refreshing lunch.

Another meeting will be held on Monday, February 22, at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Finner, Johnston Drive.

Birthday Cake For Friday Ball

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 26.—Green-Shearer bakery came to the front today in behalf of the President's birthday ball to be held here on Friday evening when they offered to bake a beautiful birthday cake for the president.

The cake will be auctioned off to the highest bidder at the dance in the regular old-fashioned auctioneering methods, and the proceeds placed in the fund for the help of infantile paralysis victims.

Harden Green, owner of the bakery in making the offer of the cake stated that he wishes to make this his annual contribution to the Infantile Paralysis Fund and in honor of the birthday of the President of the United States.

C. A. Martin Class Aids War Relief

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 26.—A contribution of $25 to war relief was approved by members of the C. A. Martin class of the First Presbyterian church who gathered last evening at the home of Mrs. Warren Thorpe, Ewing Park.

An informal social time was enjoyed with the hostess having as her aides in serving a tempting lunch Mrs. C. R. O'Neill, Mrs. Frank Sanders and Mrs. William Edwards.

Mrs. William Bayers and Mrs. J. A. Pearson shared as special guests.

On Monday, February 22, the class will meet at the home of Mrs. Thomas Jones, Crescent avenue.

Lutheran Board Members Gather

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 26.—Miss Josephine Fleischer was the leader for the January meeting of the Lutheran church Sunday school board last evening, with her topic being "How To Use the Bible."

A talk was also given by Mrs. H. P. Fleischer on "God Reaching Through the Church." Action was taken to have a concerted drive for attendance of lax members during the coming month. Superintendent Harold Hollerman was in charge.

METE OUT DEATH TO CAPTIVES

An example of the brand of justice handed out by the Nazis is illustrated by the photos above. Suffering from typhus, 2,500 captured Serbians were sent north to Jernavannet, near the Swedish border, where they were placed in the prison camp shown in lower photo. Later they were lined up and shot by storm troopers. One of the graves, without a cross or name, is pictured top, near camp.

Mrs. Nell Phelps Entertains Group

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 26.—Mrs. Nell Phelps, of Fifth street, was the hostess last night to a group of the Monday club. Sharing as special guests were Mrs. J. G. Ferguson and Mrs. Harry Parthorne.

Contract was enjoyed at three tables with the high club award going to Mrs. Joseph Moorhead and the travel and guest prizes to Mrs. Parthorne.

Mrs. Catherine Charles aided the hostess in serving a delicious lunch. Hostess for the next meeting in two weeks will be Mrs. Loren Springer, of Sixth street.

Senior Scouts Meet For Dinner

Arts and Crafts Group With Mrs. Ray Wilson As Chairman In Charge

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 26.—Highly enjoyable was the Senior Girl Scout troop dinner held last night at the First Baptist church. Sixty scouts and leaders attended the event arranged by the arts and crafts group directed by Mrs. Ray Wilson.

Colors were in charge of Miss Mary Thorpe, Commissioner. Mrs. J. H. Hough announced that a junior Red Cross first aid class would begin on Monday, February 8, at the Baptist church with Mrs. Clifton Jones as leader. Any scout can attend the class which will be held for two hours each week.

Badges will be presented to the senior scouts for various achievements at the next dinner on Monday, February 22, at which time the music division will be in charge.

Golden Jubilee pictures and pictures of the Girl Scout camp were shown by Fred Melzer after which the arts and crafts group demonstrated the work they are doing.

Altruistic Class Gathers At Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 26.—Miss Margaret Lusher and Mrs. Norbert Rossman were pleasant hostesses to members of the Altruistic class last night at the First Methodist church with twenty-four in attendance.

Games were enjoyed with the nice prizes going to Mrs. J. N. Welling, Mrs. Mary Mudrie, Miss Eleanor Cowan and Mrs. Virginia Hall. A special feature was a shower for Miss Jean Maxwell. Mrs. J. W. Gladden conducted the opening devotions.

Plans were made to have a twelve dinner at the church on February 9 with arrangements in charge of Mrs. Esther Nicholl, Mrs. Marian McKim and Mrs. Catherine Rutter. The regular meeting will be held on Monday night, February 22, at the church with Mrs. Gladden and Mrs. Hall to be hostesses. The hostesses served appealing refreshments.

Tiny PT-Boats Prove Real Threat To Jap Shipping In Solomons

By RICHARD TREGASKIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

AN ADVANCED UNITED STATES NAVAL BASE in the Southwest Pacific, Jan. 21—(Delayed)—After an appropriate period of non-recognition, the United States Navy's PT-boats came into their own today with official disclosure they have sunk or damaged 250,000 tons of Japanese shipping in the Solomon Islands since they went into action three months ago.

Belated tribute was paid to these tiny but powerful units of the American fleet with an official summary of their southwestern Pacific achievements.

It listed their toll as follows:

One battleship.
Two cruisers.
Thirteen destroyers.
An unannounced total of cargo ships.

On Job Since October

The PT's have done yeoman work in the Solomons since their first contact on the night of October 13, when they attacked a force of Japanese cruisers and destroyers attempting to land troops and supplies at Guadalcanal, turned them back and scored hits on at least one of the heavy enemy vessels.

The whole fact of the matter is that these little ships and their gallant crews go after enemy vessels 200 times their size and have on more than one occasion exchanged fire with heavy naval batteries.

Two weeks after the first engagement of October 13, several PT's struck again at the Japanese, hitting one out of three destroyers and escaping damage themselves, despite heavy shelling in the glare of enemy searchlights.

During the following weeks there were many brushes between PT's and the "Bougainville Express," the name given to the Japanese force of cruisers and destroyers which came down toward Guadalcanal in attempts to land troops and supplies with annoying regularity.

Most PT attacks are made at night. The crews sleep in the daytime in an especially constructed tent camp at Guadalcanal.

On the night of December 7, there was an unusual combat when three PT-boats took on a Japanese destroyer and replied to its five-inch shells with machine-gun fire. One of the torpedoed boats was damaged and seemed to be on the way out, but a companion ship acted as "bait" and lured the enemy destroyer away before a kill could be made.

Two nights later after driving off a Japanese supply ship on the Guadalcanal shore, PT-boats encountered and strafed an armed enemy landing barge. The Japanese crew took to the water and disappeared and the barge broke in two when the PT attempted to take it in tow.

On December 13, PT's tackled a considerable force of enemy destroyers, sinking one, setting a second on fire and damaging a third. In this particular melee, one PT boat was lost, which was not only a tragedy but an unusual occurrence.

Undaunted By Numbers

Enemy superiority in numbers never daunts these PT boats and their gallant crews. On January 10, for example, a small force of them attacked a large number of Japanese destroyers which were towing many landing boats. The PT's scored two hits which were definite and at least one probable. In any case, the enemy flotilla withdrew.

The next morning, the PT's went out to survey the scene of battle and found large numbers of floating drums dropped overboard from the enemy ships with the hope they would reach shore to replenish the beleaguered Japanese. Machine-gun marksmanship sent all of them to the bottom.

EQUITABLE ASSETS

GROW DURING YEAR

NEW YORK, Jan. 26—Assets of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States increased during 1942 by $190,000,000, bringing the total to the highest point in the history of the society, Thomas I. Parkinson, president, said.

Total assets of the company at the end of the year were approximately $2,930,000,000.

Weeds In Ditches Pose Legal Question

Damage Suit Appealed To State Supreme Court Involves Municipal Responsibility

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26—The question whether it is negligence on the part of a municipality to allow wild vegetation, weeds and grass to grow in and beside a ditch along the side of a highway to such a height as to conceal it from view was argued before the supreme court Monday on the appeal of Frank L. Martin, a Scranton lawyer, whose damage suit against the borough to Moscow was non-suited by the Lackawanna court of common pleas.

On the night of June 27th, 1940, Martin was driving along an improved highway, part of route 611, when a large truck rounded a curve ahead of him and to give it plenty of room to pass he veered over to the right so far that the wheels of his car sank into a ditch three feet deep at the side of the road. His car was demolished and he was severely injured.

'Land Army' Of 3,500,000 To Be Recruited

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—Secretary of Agriculture Claude A. Wickard said on Monday that the government plans to recruit a "volunteer land army" of 3,500,000 workers this summer to aid farmers in meeting the 1943 food goals.

"The labor question is the most serious problem confronting the agriculture department," Wickard said. "An estimated 1,500,000 workers have gone from the farms annually in the last two years."

Wickard's statement was made at a joint press conference with war manpower Chief Paul V. McNutt after the latter had delegated to the secretary of agriculture the job of recruiting and placing farm labor.

TO RESUME HEARINGS ON OIL SHORTAGE

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—The special senate committee investigating fuel oil and gasoline shortages will resume hearings Wednesday when John J. Pelley, president of the American Association of Railroads, and possibly representatives of the Petroleum Administrator for war will appear.

Pelley is expected to advise the committee on the ability of the railroads to carry more fuel oil and gasoline into the east.

Your Federal Income Tax

NO. 20
INTEREST INCOME
Interest income is entered in the return Form 1040 as items 3 to 5. Interest is variously taxable, some interest being wholly tax exempt and some partly tax exempt. Wholly tax-exempt interest includes interest on (a) obligations of a State, Territory, or political subdivision thereof, or of the District of Columbia, of United States possession; (b) obligations issued prior to March 1, 1941, under the Federal Farm Loan Act, or amendments to the Act; (c) obligations of the United States issued on or before September 1, 1917; and (d) Treasury notes, Treasury bills, and Treasury certificates of indebtedness issued prior to March 1, 1941. Although such interest is tax exempt, the amount of such obligations held by the taxpayer, as well as the amount of interest received or accrued during the year, must be shown in the return (in Schedule A).

Certain other interest is partially tax exempt. Interest on United States Savings bonds and Treasury bonds issued prior to March 1, 1941, is of this class. Interest on such bonds is exempt from normal tax, and on holdings of such bonds up to $5,000 principal amount is exempt from surtax also; that is interest on such bonds held in excess of $5,000 principal amount must be included in surtax net income for computation of surtax.

Interest on obligations issued on or after March 1, 1941, by the United States or any agency or instrumentality of the United States, is subject to both normal tax and surtax. However, in the case of obligations issued at a discount, for example, war savings bonds, where income is reported on the cash basis, the interest may be reported each year as accrued (shown in a table on the bonds as the increase in the redemption value) or it may be deferred until the bonds come due. When it may all be included as income in that year. (Once a taxpayer has elected to accrue the discount, he can not change to the other method.)

On certain bonds with a "tax free covenant" the corporation issuing the bonds pays part of the income tax on such bond interest (2 percent of the total interest earned by the bond). A person receiving interest on such bonds is entitled to a credit of the amount of income tax paid by the corporation in computing his tax due. The amount of such credit for tax paid at the source is entered in item 31 of the return Form 1040.

Interest on coupon bonds is considered received when the coupon becomes due and payable, irrespective of when the taxpayer cashes or presents the coupon for payment (unless, of course, the issuer of the bonds is in default and no funds are available to meet the interest). Interest on savings and deposit accounts is considered as received when it has been credited to the account of the taxpayer, subject to his withdrawal, irrespective of whether he withdraws it or not. Other interest is considered as received when paid or made available to the holder of the obligation.

Sometimes, notes are sold at a discount and redeemed at the face amount. While such discount is frequently considered interest in the commercial sense, for tax purposes it represents a gain from sale or exchange of property and is not reported as interest, but as a gain under item 8.

BUDGET ON VIEW

The budgets for the general and institutional funds are now on display in the office of the county commissioners. Under the law the budgets must remain on public view for twenty days, after which formal action is taken upon them.

Ordinarily there are few, mostly none at all, of the taxpayers who have sufficient interest in the budget to take a look at it.

REGISTRATION TOTALS

Nine citizens registered to vote in the week just past, according to figures in the office of Permanent registration. Of the nine, 6 registered as Republicans, 2 registered as Democrats, and 1 registered as a Non-Partisan. Six voters changed from the Democratic party to the Republican and one changed from Republican to Democrat.

The final total of voters who re-instated themselves after being notified of cancellation stands at 3,055. Several weeks ago 8,455 cards were taken from the files and the voters notified their voting privilege would be cancelled unless they sent back the reinstatement card. The number responding to the notices is unusually high. Of the 8,455 there would be many who had died or moved away. Of the total reinstated, nearly 150 were service men or women.

Authorize Probe Of Nation's Manpower

Senate Investigation May Bring Limit On Armed Forces, Manpower Control By Congress

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—The senate appropriations committee on Monday authorized a far-reaching investigation into the manpower resources of the nation with a view to limiting the size of the armed forces and to give congress control over the whole manpower problem.

The senate investigation will be divided into two phases. The committee will determine the number of men needed by the army and navy and will also determine the number of men required on the farms and in war industries to properly feed and equip the fighting forces and to provide for civilian needs.

The investigation is based on a demand contained in a resolution sponsored by Sen. John H. Bankhead (D) Ala.

Sen. Kenneth McKellar (D) Tenn., ranking member of the appropriations committee will name a subcommittee within a few days which will conduct the sweeping investigation.

Announcement of the probe into the manpower came shortly after secretary of agriculture Claude A. Wickard revealed that the government is planning to recruit a "volunteer land army" of 3,500,000 workers this summer to aid farmers in meeting the 1943 food calls.

Complains About Merchants Sweeping Trash Into Streets

When council met Monday in City hall, one of the city's street cleaners voiced his protest against employees of Washington street business houses because they sweep paper into the cartway after he had once swept the debris from the street.

Mayor Charles B. Mayne pointed out that most business houses do not open until nine a. m. or later. Street sweepers usually are sweeping several hours earlier.

Streets Director James Gibson asked the "White Wing" if he had informed Commissioner Carmi Glover of the situation.

"No. I objected this morning to some sweeping paper upon the sidewalk and they wanted to 'lick' me," the man asserted.

Gibson said he would communicate the complaint to Glover.
